PERSHING TO ATTEMPT TO SETTLE CONTROVERSY BETWEEN CHILE AND PERU OVER TITLE TO TACNA-ARICA

Dispute Between South American Nations Places United States as Empire in Delicate Position—Peru Displeased With Coolidge Decision.

Washington, March 31.—General John Pershing has a task cut out for him now that the smoothest diplomats in Washington are shaking their heads over.

He is to supervise the plebescite that is to settle the age-old controversy between Chile and Peru over the ownership of Tacna-Arica, the Alsace-Lorraine of South America.

Difficult at best, General Pershing's task has been rendered doubly so in the last 48 hours by the serious charges Peru has lodged against Chile here in Washington, and the uncompromising attitude assumed by the Peruvians.

The resentment that Peru feels over the award made by President Coolidge, as umpire in the dispute has manifested itself in a note, which, by the most liberal translation from the original Spanish can only be characterized as "sharp."

The Peruvian embassy has been laboring over the document for two days now, seeking to tone down the language and soften the harshness of it before its presentation to the state department.

The note was to be then forwarded to Secretary of State Kellogg for transmission to President Coolidge. It not only takes violent exception to the president's decision as umpire of the dispute, but it accuses Chille of various and sundry crimes in the disputed area, and insists upon American troops being sent there to replace the Chileans until the election is held to determine the nationality of the province.

How to placate the Peruvian government, without admitting its allegations against the Chilean government is the delicate issue before the president and Secretary Kellogg. Obviously, it was said today, American troops cannot be sent to the disputed province to replace the Chilean troops now there without conceding the correctness of Peru's charges of military despotism and terrorism against the Chileans. And to concede that would lead to Chilean resenement that officials do not like to contemplate. The whole conroversy is of much greater importance to the American government, than appears on the surface.

The whole of the Latin and South America is watching the progress of this dispute and eagerly awaiting its outcome. The prestige of the United States in the entire western hemisphere is more or less involved for the neighbors of Chile and Peru have taken sides.

On the part of administration officials there is the frank fear that the old adage of the peacemaker getting the "black eye" will work out in this case.

The peacemaker in this case is the United States.

The controversy was inherited by the Coolidge-Kellogg administration from the Harding-Hughes regime. The late President Harding's zeal for promotion of peace and better understanding throughout the western hemisphere, prompted him to urge an adjustment of the Tacna-Arica dispute, a festering sore in South America for more than half a century. Both Peru and Chile agreed to accept his decision as umpire, and upon his death the task fell to President Coolidge.

The award to which Peru now takes exception, was written by Secretary of State Hughes. It ordered a plebescite to determine the nationality of the province. Peru now charges that the plebescite to be supervised by Pershing, is being "doctored" by Chile by the sending of thousands of Chilean laborers into the province against election day and by the terrorism instituted by Chilean troops among Peruvian sympathizers in the area.

It will be General Pershing's task to so conduct this plebescite and to so steer a middle course, that Peru and Chile will be kept from going to War again and American prestige in South America will be enhanced, rather than smashed by the ultimate result. Diplomats do not envy him his job.

Accuses Bandit

Miss Catherine Bourne, a bookkeeper of a Stembensville, Ohio, automobile company, testified in the Hartford, Conn., trial of Gerald Chapman, notorious bandit, for the alleged murder of Policeman James Skelly, that she saw Chapman in her employer's store on April 5, 1924, the day before a sedan mysteriously disappeared. The missing car was traced to within five hundred feet of the spot where Patrolman Skelly met his death in New Britain, Conn. The car was registered under the name of Waldo W. Miller, which, according to State's Attorney Alcorn, is a Chapman alias.

SIX ARE SENTENCED AS ECHO OF CANTON CLEANUP LAST YEAR

Men Convicted By Federal Jury Of Conspiracy Are Given Fines In Court

Cleveland, O., March 31—An aftermath of the cleanup of the Canton safety department last year, resulted today in the imposing of heavy sentences and fines upon six men—five from Canton—when they were found guilty by the federal grand jury of conspiring to violate the federal prohibition law.

Harry Bouklas, Canton, who turned state's evidence, armed prosecutors with evidence adequate enough to convict five of seven others who had been indicted. He was fined $100 and sentenced to three months in the workhouse. Other penalties were:

Alex Peterson, Canton, 15 months and $500.

Gus Papas, Canton, 15 months and $500.

Clyde Goldfus, New Philadelphia, 15 months and $500.

Peter Valos, a year and a day, and $300.

Gus Tchilaris, Canton, four months and $100.

Bauklas, who said he was "collector" for the Canton safety department, accepting money for alleged police protection, reviewed how the ring took bonded whiskey from the basement of the Canton Drug Company and substituted for it moonshine liquor that had been manufactured by members of the ring. The good liquor was bootlegged by two others in the gang who received from $90 to $100 for their work.

The government whiskey was originally stored in the basement of the drug store by prohibition agents who seized it. The whiskey—100 cases—had been found on a truck near Alliance, Ohio, by the agents. It was secured at Pittsburgh on a fake permit, they said.

Baginsky and Weczorkiwicz, who were shot to death by Police Sergeant Muraszio as he was escorting them to the soviet frontier for exchange. The two communists had twice been sentenced to death and reprieved by President Wojciechowski, of Poland.

The Soviet agreed to exchange for them thirty four Poles, most of whom had been sentenced to death by soviet tribunals.

Muraszio shot them a few minutes before they would have been delivered at the border and declared he had performed a patriotic duty.

Several coaches were smashed, including the international sleeper from Tashkent. The bodies of the victims were buried in the debris.

TESTIMONY OF SHEAN THROWS SHADOW OF NOOSE ON CHAPMAN

Defense Counsel Begins Savage Cross-examination Of State Witness At Trial

Hartford, Conn., March 31.—With the shadow of the noose cast about the neck of Gerald Chapman, mail bandit, through the testimony of Walter E. Shean, at the Chapman trial for murder, defense counsel today began a savage examination of Shean.

Shean took the witness stand with the same self possession he exhibited at yesterday's trial, when he identified Chapman as the "Mr. Miller," who broke into the New Britain department store on October 12, which resulted in the killing of Policeman James Skelley.

Sheen testified he aided Chapman in the robbery.

Attorney Frederick J. Groehl launched immediately into an assault on the Shean testimony. Shean said he was 38 years old and divorced, living in Springfield, Massachusetts. He testified George Brown introduced Chapman to him last June.

"You didn't know Brown was a safe breaker?"

"No."

CANDIDATES IN LEAD MAY BE DROPPED

Berlin, March 31.—Neither of the leading candidates in the presidential election "rehearsal" will be in the election proper April 26, according to every indication today. The "reichbloc," which stood behind Dr. Karl Jarres, in the first vote, is willing to drop him just as the socialists are ready to drop out to Braun for the sake of victory in the second balloting.

Newspapers on both sides are urging the selection of candidates more widely acceptable. In spite of the claim of Republican parties that their total vote showed a "victory over the monarchists,' a Republican victory in the second election depends entirely upon the selection of a suitable candidate. This problem promises to be extremely difficult.

QUAKES NOTICED

Both shocks were estimated to be within a fifty mile radius.

Stillman, ex-president of the National City Bank of New York, and took the job on her advice.

SELECTION OF JURY TO TEST SANITY OF MATRICIDE STARTED

Murder Jury Will Go On If Sanity Jury Finds Ellingson Girl Is Not Insane

San Francisco, March 31—The task of securing 12 men and women to search mind and soul of Dorothy Ellingson, 16 year matricide for the determination of her sanity, was started today in the same courtroom in which twelve men and women were selected last week to try her for murder.

The undertaking promised to be little less wearisome and nerve wearing, upon the youthful defendant than was the collection of the murder jury which passed into temporary suspension pending the investigation of the girl's sanity.

The proceedings were expected to be little less formal and when the issue is submitted to the jury for determination, nine members in agreement can return a verdict. Civil procedure rather than criminal, will rule in the sanity test.

If the verdict is sane, then the murder trial will be resumed at the point where it was halted. If the jury finds Dorothy is now insane, she will be committed to an asylum. The murder indictment will stand against her and if reason ever returns, she may be tried upon the murder charge.

The state will not permit the girl to be declared insane without a bitter fight. Their expectation that they will be able to prove her sane, was indicated in their refusal to stipulate that the jury empanelled for her murder trial be used to try her sanity.

This jury they say may be needed later.

On the other hand, the defense, confident that their preliminary showing had been convincing, declared their belief that the girl will be shown to be not only insane but physically unable to continue with her murder trial. Tomorrow Dr. Jau Don Ball specialist, in mental and nervous diseases and lecturer on criminology at the University of California, will be the chief witness supported by several other alienists. The state will rely largely on Dr. Joseph Gatton, well known alienist who believes the girl sane.

BATTLE OF WITS BEGINS BETWEEN DONAHEY AND REPUBLICAN HEADS OVER FATE OF FAVORITE MEASURES

Confirmation of Appointments, Legislative Program and Bible Bill Hang On Results of Contest— Governor Will "Bulldog" Solons.

Columbus, O., March 31.—A contest of wits with big prizes at stake—is being fought, under cover, here in Columbus, while the legislature, worn out after three months of law making, is home for a rest. It is a battle between the shrewd advisors of Governor Donahey and Republican legislative leaders, coached by political leaders "back home."

There are few stage settings. The action is in secret in various offices, the doors are closed.

On the result of this contest of wits depend:

Confirmation or rejection of Governor Donahey's four main appointments.

Control of the state utilities commission which hinges on action by the senate on the governor's appointments to the commission.

The fate of the Republican organization program, not necessarily the majority legislative program, looking toward scuttling of the direct primary system for nomination of candidates for higher elective offices.

Wound up in all this is the fate of the famous Bible bill, which thus far has rocked most of the legislative machinery, because rejection of this measures, friends of the bill say, will result in confirmation of the governor's main appointments.

Governor Donahey is to be the attacking force in the newest row between the executive and the legislature. He has his coat off and his sleeves rolled up, ready for any sort of a bout.

Here is the governor's program, as outlined by one of his closest advisers.

He does not intend to permit the legislature, if he can find any power under the constitution to stop it, to stage another long winded recess like that of two years ago by which Republican leaders avoided action on his appointments, his friends declare.

If they start another such recess, the governor proposes to summon the law makers back every week and insist that they complete what legislative and advisory tasks they have before them and then adjourn, his friends say. He will do this every week or a year, if necessary, it is declared. If, despite these tactics the legislature persists in another recess, the governor proposes to obtain final determination whether the legislature has authority to do so—whether while in such a recess the legislature is "in position to transact business," as required by the constitution.

The governor proposes to "bulldog" the legislature until he gets some sort of action, whatever it is, his advisers say.

The anticipated battle is expected to bring to a focus the question of the separate entities of the executive and legislative branches of the state government. It is also likely to develop large supplies of ammunition for whatever campaigns are in the wind in 1926, it is pointed out.

Legislative leaders have their own plan of action and it is not likely to be altered much by any tactics by the governor. When Majority Leader Robert A. Taft, Hamilton, threw down the gauge of battle to the governor last week with his remark about the governor's flair for "destructive criticism," legislative leaders signified that they would fight their own battles from now on, with no hope of co-operation between the two branches of government, it is said.

As a result, they propose to go ahead with their plan to meet April 16, pass over the governor's veto, whatever legislation they have set their hearts upon, take whatever action is decided upon the governor's appointments and then recess to March 1, 1926, when a special session is proposed to pass tax and election law codification acts.

Their scheme, however, is likely to be upset. Backers of the Bible bill have just discovered that if they are able to pass the measure in the senate they will have no opportunity to pass it over the governor's possible veto, if they go right home again.

So, it is reported, they plan to stay around Columbus until the governor's ten days for consideration of the bill have passed, and then, if he should veto it, they will try to pass it over his veto.

Insistence in some quarters that the Aigler resolution proposing abolition of the direct primary system for selection of candidates for state, district and municipal elective offices, a scheme backed by some of the Republican county leaders, is also likely to delay the leaders plan for a short session and then a recess until next spring.

As a result of all these moves, close observers believe that the coming "short" session is likely to develop into a grind of at least two and three weeks of wrangling before the legislature finally goes home until another spring rolls around.

ROBBERS LOOT SAFE OF NEW YORK HOTEL; THOUSANDS TAKEN

Guest At Hotel Accomplice Of Bandits Who Hold Up Clerk And Rifle Safe

New York, March 31—Robbers looted the safe of the Aberdeen Hotel early today and took all money and valuables which guests had deposited for safekeeping. There were thousands of dollars worth of jewelry in the safe, hotel officials said.

One robber was an affable guest at the hotel.

He came down from his room at 1:30 this morning and returned with another man. The affable guest handed the night clerk a package to put in the safe. Once the safe was open, he covered the clerk with a revolver. The other robbers then appeared.

The clerk, an elevator boy, a bell boy and two guests, who came in, all were tied with fish line, while the robbers completed their work. A few minutes after the robbery, a patrolman at Seventy Second Street and Columbus Avenue saw a high powered automobile coming away from the downtown district, where the Aberdeen Hotel is located, at a terrific speed.

The driver refused to stop on the patrolman's signal.

A pursuit was begun by motorcycle officers, with the officers firing on the automobile and the occupants firing at the police. Two of the officers, George S. Sahadi and William Stolva were wounded and the car outdistanced the police.

A short time later another policeman found a deserted and bullet riddled automobile on Hamilton terrace and 44th Street. In it were three shotguns, three revolvers, a cash box and a satchel.

OVERRULES APPEAL OF MURDERESS

Columbus, March 31—Emma Colivato convicted of poisoning Mariano Constanza, Cleveland, February 23, 1920, today lost her last fight for freedom, when the state supreme court overruled her motion for leave to appeal. She is serving a life sentence in the Marysville reformatory for women.

The Colivato woman was charged with having administered arsenic in medicine given Constanza as an alleged cure for drink.

Mrs. Fanny Constanza, the slain man's wife, was freed after trial.

MIGRATION HEAVIER

Defiance, March 31—Migration of jobless wanderers is heavier this spring through Defiance than for many years, records of "sleepers", kept by Police Chief Weaner, show. Since January 1, last, 220 migrants were given overnight lodging in the city prison; 74 having been taken care of in January, 69 in February and 77 this month.

GERMS BLOW IN

Athens, March 31—Health Commissioner J. M. Higgins declared that the recent tornado in Southern Illinois swept millions of germs of throat and lung diseases into Southeastern Ohio. Dr. Higgins said he noted an appreciable increase in these diseases in this part of the state since the great windstorm which struck Athens County in par.

KIRBY CASE WILL BE GIVEN JURY BY WEDNESDAY NOON; DEFENSE HAPPY

Cleveland, March 31.—The fate of Josiah Kirby, former president of the $30,000,000 Cleveland Discount Company, who is being tried on a charge of issuing a false financial statement, will rest with the jury of six men and six women by Wednesday noon.

Meanwhile his attorneys are putting the finishing touches to their pleas in his behalf.

The defense counsel rests assured that the evidence presented by the state will be enough to prove Kirby's innocence. So confident was the defense yesterday that it rested its case without presenting a word of argument for the touted financial genius.

Judge Dan Cull will charge the jury Wednesday, it is certain, and is now preparing the charge.

The trial of Kirby draws to a close without any sensational developments having been brought out. Except for the action of the prosecution in requesting that Raymond L. Poland, who was indicted with Kirby be freed so that he might testify with immunity, there has not been more than an ordinary ripple in the proceedings. This surprise stroke was met with the defense's resting of the case yesterday.

SPECTATORS WATCH WORK PROGRESSING ON NEW CIVIC PARK

The work of grading Shawanoese Park, Xenia's new civic playground, is progressing rapidly annd the plans embracing the removal of unsightly and unnecessary brush carried out. The plowing and leveling of the higher parts of the land and sowing the land in sod-producing grasses will be done this week.

The plans also include the tiling and ditching of the entire tract preparatory to the drainage of the swamp, so that it can dry out for the purpose of removing the top earth to determine the depth of the lagoon.

Groups of spectators gathered from time to time during the day and view with interest the progress of the work and the promise of the Xenia park. One man came up to the group Monday morning and said "I am going to work here today." The foreman in charge countered, "Who hired you and what do you want an hour?" The man answered "I want to work but do not want any money for it." He worked all day faithfully and made a good hand.

The Recreation Association received many offers during the campaign for such service and is not adverse to any help received, if along the lines prescribed at the time of the donation of the services.

The books of the association are being kept open for further gifts and anyone desiring to enlarge their subscription or to bring in one which was missed it will be appreciated.

The Recreation Association plans to hold an election of officers in the near future. The work will be completed as far as the money will allow along the most economical lines. Contracts will be let on bids for the portions of the work which can be figured.

COUNTER CHARGES FOLLOW ON HEELS OF XENIAN'S ARREST

Mrs. T. A. Wiltrie, of Vernon Twp., Clinton County, who caused the arrest of Morris Painter, Xenia, on a charge of petit larceny, recently was in turn charged by Painter with furnishing intoxicating liquor and was arrested in Clinton County last Wednesday. She pleaded not guilty to the charge and her trial is fixed for April 15, at 9 a. m., in Mayor Pennington's court, Wilmington.

Painter, and Joseph T. Russell, Cincinnati and R. D. Painter, Wilmington, were bound over to the grand jury on charges of petit larceny by Squire W. I. Stewart, recently. The three were arrested on charges sworn out by Mrs. Wiltrie.

Mrs. Wiltrie told Wilmington police that Morris and R. D. Painter and Russell, representing themselves as agents of the Goldberg Realty Company of Cincinnati, conferred with her and her husband in regard to exchange of their farm in Vernon Township for two pieces of real estate in Cincinnati.

It is alleged that, after a visit to Cincinnati to inspect what was designated as the two tracts of land, a contract in exchange was drawn up. Mrs. Wiltrie alleges that Morris Painter claimed as his commission in the deal, $250, in payment of which she and her husband gave a note, she said. After giving the note, according to the story, the Wiltries decided not to complete the deal and wished their money back. They say that Painter refused to return the money, whereupon Mrs. Wiltrie accused the men in court of having "stolen, taken and carried away, one dozen chickens of the value of $12; and three hams of the value of $9," March 18. Mrs. Wiltrie alleges that the three men claimed these things as part payment of the commission due them.

In retaliation, Painter brought the charge of furnishing liquor, against Mrs. Wiltrie. He claims that she permitted them to drink of cherry juice which she had in her home, left from the canning season. The juice when tested in Wilmington College laboratories, proved to have an alcoholic content of 1.4 per cent.

LESS LEGISLATION MORE CO-OPERATION NEED OF RAILROADS

"The most important problems in the minds of the public today are: first, can railroads continue to provide adequate service for the people of this county as in the past two years; second, can railroads continue to add to the efficiency and economy with which their properties are now being operated," Gayle W. Arnold, industrial agent, Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, told members of the Rotary Club at the luncheon at the Elk's Club Tuesday.

"You may wish to know why I ask these questions, and I say that it is because each individual is interested in the success of our second greatest industry—our transportation."

"The railroad industry is the second largest in our country—agriculture being first—with about 2,000,000 employees in normal times and property valued at more than twenty billion dollars. Therefore the importance of the railroad problem to every citizen in the United States is apparent.

"The individual responsibility of each of us is strikingly brought out by the fact that more than half of our population, according to the latest census, live in cities of 10,000 or more inhabitants. The remainder, more than fifty millions, live in smaller towns and villages, while about one-third live on farms. Railroads and their problems affect every one of them.

"Railroads of the United States have 989,949 stockholders, and the Baltimore and Ohio system alone has approximately 36,000 stockholders while 30,000,000 insurance policy holders, and 11,000,000 savings bank depositors have direct financial interest in railroads.

"There are so many angles to the so-called "railroad problem" that it would be impossible in limited time to attempt to cover them but I put especial emphasis on the one phase the broad question of public policy toward our railroads.

The railroads must have the far-sighted sympathy and assistance of the public. This does not mean that freight rates are too low but I do say that part of the remedy is; less legislation directed toward the railroads and more co-operation, as to a partner in your everyday business of life or giving the management of the railroads the opportunity to handle their business as you handle yours.

"As a whole, the railroads of the United States are today with all of their faults, the most efficient on of any in the world; they render the best service at the lowest cost; they pay the highest wages, and support their employees in the highest standard of living of any railroads in the world.

They can continue to do their best work only by a public policy in harmony with the institutions which have given this nation a place at the head of the nations of the world.

"To sum it up, what is needed by all business today, is less legislation, and more co-operation.

"We do not in this democracy of ours, want paternatistic intervention of government politically controlled mines, agriculture, forestry, manufacturing and transportamanagement. All men, no matter what their calling, know best how to perform their own job."

MARCH SUN MARMS WOODLANDS

SOFT maple buds and honey bees are awakened simultaneously by the March sunshine. The blossoms hang out advertisements of color and nectar and the bees, hungry after their winter sleep, are eager customers. Song sparrows are now traveling leisurely across country back to Canada. They are stopping for a time along the brush-bordered streams. It is a pleasure to hear them sing. Robins and bluebirds are appearing plentifully and while they are still more or less in flocks they will soon separate in pairs and set up housekeeping—the robins in mud-lined bungalows and the bluebirds in the little frame cottages provided by Boy Scouts and others or in tree cavities.

The willow has taken on its golden hue of early spring, the pussy willows have shed the scales covering their catkins and the fuzzy white buds are glistening in the sun. The March cold snap with its attendant flurry of snow is a trying time for early bird migrants. At such times they huddle in evergreen trees or crawl back of the overhanging turf of stream banks. Out in the woods the pointed leaves of dogtooth violets push through the mold and buds of spring beauty show touches of color. Owl's eggs have already hatched and the furry youngsters cuddle together in the nest waiting for food to keep them warm and make them grow. On bright days the woodchuck may be seen scurrying across some sun-warmed spot on a foraging tour from his burrow. Crappie are emerging from the deep water of their winter hiding and are moving about in schools, hungry for the fisherman's bait. Crocus have pushed their buds above the sod to tell us spring is here. Squirrels mate and breed early and their homes are already established. Courtship has begun among the birds; chickadees sing their "Sweet-day" song, titmice call 'Peter, Peter, Peter," cardinals mount to a tree top and call "Theodore, Theodore, what cheer, what cheer;" while flickers bob to each other and drum on a dead tree.

March and April are the months in which to observe the swelling buds and see them shed their fuzzy wrappers. Some of the wrapper scales are beautifully colored as are the buds of the hickory and the buckeye. What a thrilling sight it would be, to the lover ofo the out of doors, if the spring awakening of buds and bulks and seeds could be magnified before our vision so that we might see them push and twist and strain in their effort to burst forth into life and beauty.

"BILL BRYAN," SALESMAN

AND now we find that none other than William Jennings Bryan, leading citizen of Miami, Florida, has turned from politics and "Evolution" to the possibly more lucrative business of real estate sales promotion. Naturally "The Commoner" is greatly interested in the future of Florida and especially of Miami but when, according to Eddie Hay of the Coral Gables Miami Riviera company, he is paid "a salary which might well make the President of the United States envious" his interest is two fold.

Word comes to us that the silver tongued orator lectures every noon, Sundays excepted, in the Venetian casino at Coral Gables to the visitors from every state in the nation and almost every nation in the world on the subject of the future of Florida real estate values. A special platform has been built for Bryan over the water of the Venetian pool, wherein wealth and beauty chatter and plash. Their levity is stilled, however, when Bryan is introduced; some retiring to dressing rooms or to lounge in the casino while others listen in bathing attire to the words of wisdom which drop from the lips of "The Commoner." The trend of his remarks is illustrated by a talk he made recently when he predicted that "Miami is to become the greatest sea port of the southern Atlantic coast."

PICKING UP AFTER HIM

"When a man gets through with a room," says she,
"It is always a horrible place to see!
The clothes discarded he flings about,
The dresser drawers are all pulled out.
His underwear
Is tossed on a chair
And his socks are here
And his collars there.
And his wife must follow his trail to see
That things are left as they ought to be."

Man is careless at best, I know,
In his hurry his way is to let things go.
And there never seems to come into his mind
The countless tasks which he leaves behind
For his wife to do
When at last he's through
The room to tidy
And dress anew.
But woman has followed, since life began,
Picking things up for a careless man.

And so long as it's shoes and ties and things
A woman can smile at the care it brings;
But this life itself is a dressing room,
Which man must brighten or fill with gloom,
And all joy depends
When the sun descends
On the things he leaves,
And the odds and ends.
If he shirks his duty to serve a whim,
The wife must pick it up after him.

If his trail be strewn with the waste of shame
The wife must fight for a worthy name,
If he leaves this life as he leaves his room,
The burden of toil must his wife assume.
As the long years run
In the sweltering sun
She must do the things
Which he should have done.
She must bend her back till her strength grows dim
Ceaselessly picking up after him.

Mrs. M, McK.: "Please tell me what to do for scratches on a mahogany bureau. Also tell me how to remove stains from a brass bed."

Answer: You did not mention the color of your mahogany. For Brown Mahogany: Apply a little permanganate of potassium solution made as follows: Dissolve one teaspoonful of the permanganate crystals in one pint of warm water. Use a fine camel's hair brush to put this brown stain on the cracks. Then rub with any good furniture polish. For Red Mahogany: Dissolve a little Bismark brown aniline powder in alcohol and apply this to the cracks with a fine brush, then use a furniture polish. Or, if you prefer, go to an artists' supply store where they sell the little tubes of oil paint which artists buy to paint on canvas, and select the correct shade of brown or red to match your particular piece of mahogany. Paint the scratches with this (if too thick, thin slightly in a little benzine—but do not use the benzine near heat or flame). As to the brass bed, have you tried a good brass polish? Evidently your bed is not coated with lacquer, which keeps it from becoming stained and tarnished. When you have polished it brightly, apply a thin coat of lacquer, which can be bought already mixed at any first class paint store. If, however, the brass finish has worn off from too-frequent polishings, then the only thing that can be done is to send the bed to a brass foundry to be done over.

Mrs. H. L.: "Is there anything that can be done to restore color to a dark blue crepe de chine dress under the arms, where discoloration has been caused by perspiration? Also please tell me how to clean yellow window shades which have become soiled."

Answer: There is nothing that I know of to restore the color of blue crepe de chine under the conditions you mention. To Clean Holland Shades, lay them one at a time on a table and rub with a cheesecloth bag filled with heated cornmeal, finish by dusting with a soft cloth. Some

Today's Talks

THE WORLD OF MAKE BELIEVE

I often revolt against the same nicely portioned breakfast that is set before me.

Not that I want to hurt the kind cook, or "cause a scene," or start the day all wrong, but solely and simply because I would like to have some kind of a change that cannot be defined, something that might whisper to my highly tuned imagination and give it a boisterous smile!

I would like to have breakfast that is not quite so realistic as toast and coffee, eggs and bacon, and their tiny accessories.

The fact is that none of us wants so much of hard and fast life. We want something of the stimulation of the "make-believe"—some winged ethereal Whatnot to place before us exactly what we would have, but are unable to ask for.

I am convinced that growing old is not so much a matter of age as of deserting the art of imagination.

People who live a great deal in the world of "Make-Believe," carry Youth along with them as they would a fresh change of clothes.

"How young you look! Why, nobody would ever guess that you are that old," say those who encounter the dreamers and the inhabitants of the world of "Make-Believe."

The doctors of this age are kept busy treating those who have lived too long upon "refined food." The heart and not the white of the wheat is what made our forefathers brave and virile.

Striving for things which we can neither exactly see nor define is what makes for greatness.

Mystery alone fascinates. Not knowing but seeking to know is what makes the inventor, the discoverer and the genius.

COUNTY PASSES ITS QUOTA FOR TRAINING CAMP THIS SUMMER

With three additional candidates accepted within the past week, Greene County's allotted quota of eighteen applicants for the thirty days 'training at Camp Knox, Ky., has been over-subscribed by one applicant and the remaining applicants will be accepted as alternates, it was announced Tuesday from headquarters at Columbus.

All alternates will be ordered to camp this year, in the event that other counties do not come up to their allotted quota before June 1. Alternates this year who are not permitted to attend camp will be given the preference next year.

The following Greene County candidates who have passed the physical examination and whose general character has been certified, attained the complete enrollment last week: John P. McDonald, Xenia; John A. North, Xenia and Max L. Jenks, Jamestown. The last two attended the training camp last year.

CLINE RELEASED ON PAROLE TO XENIAN

Ralph Cline, 18, Davey, W. Va., who has been held in the County Jail since being sentenced several weeks ago, has been released under an order suspending sentences imposed in Common Pleas Court.

The release from custody was obtained through the aid of Dr. B. L. Lackey, Home Avenue, who became interested in the youth while visiting him at the Jail. Under terms of the parole Dr. Lackey, and others who have interested themselves in the boy's behalf, will look after his conduct and report periodically to the court.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY

Farris Wallace, of Springfield, pleaded not guilty to a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a sixteen-year-old girl, when arraigned in Juvenile Court Tuesday morning. His trial was set for Friday, April 3, in Juvenile Court. He is being held in County jail.

Wallace was arrested Friday by Springfield authorities and returned to Xenia Saturday by Deputy Sheriff John Baughn.

MERGER OF C. AND O. HAS BEEN APPROVED

Richmond, Va., March 31—The merger of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad into the big Nickle Plate system, being promoted by the Van Sweringen brothers at Cleveland, apparently has been approved, it was announced here today after an all night count of the ballots cast yesterday.

Formal announcement of a result is being held up because of uncertainty as to whether a two-thirds of the total vote cast or two-thirds of the total outstanding shares are necessary to approve the merger.

The total shares outstanding number 850,816.

Of this total there were 659,460 shares voted in the meeting here, as follows:

For the merger 506,542.

Against the merger 152,918.

These figures were announced this morning by Berkeley Williams, Richmond, banker, who is secretary of the minority stockholders group which is opposing the merger. The figures were announced after tellers had worked all night completing the count and before the regular meeting of the stockholders called to hear the results of the voting.

NEW SIGNAL SYSTEM EFFECTIVE MONDAY

The changed system of ringing the fire gong designating that a fire has been extinguished and the hours of 6 a.m., 12 m., and 6 p.m., went into effect Monday.

The bell is now tapped but once to designate the hours of the day, instead of three times as was formerly the case, and three taps of the bell are given to signal that a blaze has been placed under submission, according to the new system originated by Fire Chief T. B. Claire. But one tap was formerly used.

The useless drain on the batteries of the alarm system has necessitated the change, according to Chief Claire.

MONEY AT WORK

Brief but Important Lessons in Finance, Markets, Stocks, Bonds and Investments

In order to make their curencies stop playing hop, skip and jump, two courses are open to the nations of the world that have these unstable currencies.

* * *

Most currency authorities, including Edwin Walter Kemmerer of Princeton University, are agreed that the two methods by which the depreciated and fluctuating currencies of the world may be stabilized are by deflation and revaluation.

For countries like Great Britain, which has approximately a 7 per cent falling off from its gold standard, deflation is a workable plan, though this will cause "tight" money conditions and "hard times."

For countries like France, which have had their currencies slide greatly below their former standard, revaluation is the only workable plan for stabilization. For example, France might make the gold franc represent 5 cents (its present actual worth, instead of 19.3 cents. Germany revaluated its currency under the workings of the Dawes plan and now has the lowest price level of any of the major countries of the world.

Both deflation and revaluation would eb painful, but so are many necessary surgical operations.

A TISSUE BUILDER

One of the important laws of health is to safeguard the quality of the blood, for good, red blood builds up the tissues. The food we eat and the food our parents ate, is a factor, also the air we breathe day and night, and the kind of water we drink, absolute purity is a requisite, and we owe it to ourselves and to those who come after us to keep the blood pure. A graduate of Philadelphia and Cincinnati Medical Schools was Dr. R. V. Pierce, who early practiced in Pennsylvania, and became famous. He was a student of life problems, and had great faith in Nature's healing through the herbs and roots, such as were used by the Indians, and, after careful analyses of their different qualities, compounded the Golden Medical Discovery, which met with such phenomenal success that a wider field was necessary, and he removed to Buffalo, N. Y., where he became a leading citizen and Representative in Congress, built up a splendid business, and founded the famous Invalids Hotel. Dr. Pierce's name is alone a guarantee of the purity of the Golden Medical Discovery, which has helped thousands for over fifty years, and many unsolicited testimonials bear witness to its value as a tonic.

Sold by all druggists, in liquid or tablet form, or send 10 cents for trial sample to Dr. Pierce's Invalids Hotel, 665 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y., and write for free medical advice.

DIAMOND BANDITS GET $75,000 LOOT

New York, March 31—Four bandits today robbed Sobel and Kaleko, diamond merchants, of gems said to be worth $75,000 and escaped.

The bandits entered the firm's office on the ninth floor of 49 Maiden Lane and ordered Tivai Kaleko, one of the partners and three other men to hold up their hands. The four complied. The banditts then tied the hands of each man with cord.

They picked up several wallets containing valuable cut stones, calmly walked into the rear of the building, descended a fire escape and disappeared.

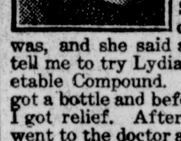
WELL ONE DAY IN BED THREE

That Was the Life of Mrs. Hollister Until she Began Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Wyandotte, Michigan. — "After my baby was born I did not do my own work for six months and could hardly take care of my own baby. I always had a pain in my right side and it was so bad I was getting round shoulders I would feel well one day and then feel so bad for three or four days that I would be in bed. One Sunday my mother came to see how I was, and she said a friend told her to tell me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. So the next day I got a bottle and before it was half taken I got relief. After I was well again I went to the doctor and he asked me how I was getting along. I told him I was taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and he said it did not hurt any one to take it. I am always recommending the Vegetable Compound to others and I always have a bottle of it on hand."—Mrs. HENRY HOLLISTER, R. F. D. No. 1, Box 7, Wyandotte, Mich.



Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a dependable medicine for all women. For sale by druggists everywhere.

Having reopened my office at the old stand with S. B. LeSourd & Co., No. 4-6 North Detroit Street, I will devote practically all of my time to Xenia and Greene County Real Estate.

In the last twenty four years I have handled more than seven million dollars worth of property and I believe all my clients were satisfied. You know I can sell them. List your property with me.

I have several nice homes for sale in Xenia. The LEWIS ALLISON HOME at the corner of Market and King Streets; eight rooms, brick, strictly modern. Mr. Allison has left the city and wants to sell. Locations like this are scarce. I have some good bargains on NORTH KING and NORTH GALLOWAY, very desirable homes on Main Street, Dayton Avenue, Third Street, Orient Hill, and a beautiful lot 67 1-2 feet on East Church Street. I have three splendid farms on the bargain counter. You will never buy land as cheap as you can now. It is the safest and best investment offered.

NEVER AGAIN

YOUR forefather's bathtub was the creek. He mirrored his face in a basin of water and made his fire with a flint. His Ford was a horse's shanks, his electric light a wick in tallow, his telephone a shrill shouting through his hands. He hewed for his furniture, spun for his clothes, tilled, sewed, reaped, ground, mixed, baked for his bread. When he died, not a newspaper printed the news, and his possessions were too few for a will.

You'll never have to go back to his old discomforts. Not while printed pages are available. News and advertising have carried far the story of new inventions. Every day more are added, more things For use, for comfort, for enjoyment.

BRIGHT COLORS AND LARGE DESIGNS ARE GOOD THIS SEASON

Dress materials this Spring are vivid and varied and the brighter the color and the larger the design, if it is on the washable silks and other thin materials, all the better.

For instance, the long retired polka-dot has been revived. This design can be used in many charming models both alone and combined with black and colors.

The brightness and attraction of the materials being shown adapt themselves admirably to simplicity and when made with the new Godet pleats along long, slim lines the effect is smart.

Black and white studies are brought in the "pen and ink" designs on printed crepe. One clever model in this design was on the tunic order, finely plaited down the front, long tight sleeves over a black slip.

The ensemble with matching coat lining has increased vogue and the new bright materials are used extensively for this purpose. One style book showed a model in black kasha with a lining of crepe in black, white and red crepe.

For more formal wear, for later in the season, are the printed chiffons Large and luscious fruits, or brilliant flowers, either all over or arranged so that the greater density of design and colors falls at the edge of the fabric to form a border, are seen.

Clear colors in which the reds predominate are used a great deal, and the greens and cooler colors are sometimes seen. Chiffons of this type are made into the simplest of afternoon frocks and are often plaited.

BOBBED HAIR HERE TO STAY DECLARES FRENCH BOB-ARTIST

"Short hair? Yes, of course, it will continue. A woman with long hair is as demodee as a woman with a long skirt. It is more essential than ever to the silhouette," so says Antoine, famous French barber.

"But, when a thing is as popular as this, it 'falls into the common' as we say," he continued. "How to save it from this fate? Individualism.'

"A coiffure for every head. A special study of the line and curve. The artist-barber will always do this, but he must have the co-operation of the woman herself. She best knows herself, her own needs."

Antoine practices what he preaches when he comes to trimming hair in his establishment. Sometimes the woman's hair is cut exactly like a man's — straight, and short, the ears bravely showing. Earrings look almost incongruous with this coiffure.

Fringes are often seen, sometimes cut straight across the forehead, more often startling frome one side and rather thin and straggly. Partings down the center or on one side are frequent. When there is a chignon, it is tiny and tightly fitted to the back of the neck.

Antoine thinks that the reproach of plainness with the shock-headed coiffure with the richer type of evening dress should be met by the revival of the head dress for evening wear. The bob and the shingle are so perfect with the boyish sports clothes that it would be a shame to change them, he thinks, and what is easier than adding an appropriate head decoration, which shall again be carefully chosen to suit the costume.

Antoine visits his clients in their homes and they receive him at the most impossible hours, with his irons, shears and bag of latest gossip thankful to get him at all. He visits London three days a week where he trims eighty favored heads. No one is said to give quite such a lovely line to the hair as he.

CAST SELECTED FOR JUNIOR CLASS PLAY TO BE STAGED SOON

Characters have been assigned as follows:

Mrs. Carmody—Miss Jane Hayward.
Mrs. Gregg—Miss Elizabeth Stout.
Miss Carroll—Miss Elizabeth Piper.
Nancy the Maid—Miss Josephine John.
Polly Harrington — Miss Helen Reutinger.
Polly Whittier—Miss Barbara Little.
Jimmy Bean, Jr.—William Wead.
John Pendleton, Esq.—George Perrill.
Bleeker, servant—Robert Downing.
Dr. Chilton—Roger Nash.
Nurse—Miss Mary Wilson.
Chauffeur—Robert Currie.
Jimmy Bean Sr.—Bob Finlay.

Miss Jean Elwell, former head of the English department of the school, will direct the cast.

BRIGHT COLORS TO FEATURE MEN'S WEAR

Brighter colors in articles of men's wear especially in the cravat line are promised for the coming summer. Stripes also will be popular not only in neckwear but for shirts, pajamas, handkerchiefs, sweaters and socks.

In neckwear there are to be various shades of red and blue and "canary" suggesting color of a toasted biscuit. Another new shade in mens' ties is a deep blue called 'policeman's blue" because it is so serviceable. Bright stripes with a dark backround will be also worn a lot, say men's furnishers.

Men's handkerchiefs are being made smaller in order to fit with comfort in the top breast pocket of street suits. The pocket is narrower this year than heretofore.

SELECTION OF FABRICS SIMPLE MATTER FOR SPRING STYLE EXPERT HAS DECLARED

"The selection of fabrics for frocks this season is simplicity itself. Certain fabrics are appropriate for certain types of costumes, others are not. That is all. Smart costumes have become standardized, universal, so have fabrics," says Lucile Buchanan in Harper's Bazaar.

"For sports wear—one might really say for general daytime wear, because the sports costume and its modifications are the very basis of the present mode — the following fabrics are smart: kasha cloth, used by itself is good, but kasha cloth combined with matching crepe is better. Many of the newest sports ensembles of crepe and kasha cloth and of kasha cloth are combined with unusually fine knitted wool of the same color. The latter is—of course — essentially for sports.

"Surah silk is being used, both plain and printed. It is used for ensembles for frocks and matching coat linings. For simple frocks it is printed with polka-dots, which are newly revived and very smart, and with all-over floral designs or plaids and stripes in vivid color.

"In these printed silks, the Spanish types of colors are good. Cream, sand, printed with vermillion and sepia. Beige, rose and "blonde" backgrounds rather than white. Pervenche blue, magenta reds and wine reds. Pervenche blue combined with darker blues.

"Black and white crepes, figured, checked, striped and polka-dotted are good. They combine extremely well with black fabrics for ensembles.

"Ribbed fabrics are smart again, but "with a difference." A new material "velvaflor" that has a velvety quality and is at the same time lustrous and far more supple than last year's ribbed fabrics, is being shown.

"Bordered crepes and chiffons are extremely smart for afternoon. Some are made with double borders, so that interesting costumes may be draped with them.

"Enormous floral designs are good for afternoon, both in chiffon and crepe. Homespun fabrics, made in France and British homespun fabrics are used for complete sports ensembles and for separate little frocks and top-coats."

OFFICER PLEASED WITH GUARD UNIT

Complimenting members on their neat appearance, Captain Charles Wilson, United States Army, expressed himself well pleased with the manner in which Company L, 147th Infantry, Ohio National Guard conducted itself at the inspection Monday night at the Armory, East Main Street.

Captain Wilson conducted the inspection in the absence of Captain Karch and Lieutenants Miller and Lantz, of Greenville, who sent word they were unable to appear.

The company was inspected in close order and extended drill, precision in drill movements and neatness in appearance. The inspection was the second held within the last three weeks.

In a short talk to members of the company, Captain Wilson stressed the necessity that every man must do his part in perfecting a well organized military unit.

J. W. PRUGH RESUMES REALTY OFFICE HERE

John W. Prugh, for many years a realty operator in Xenia, has resumed the operation of his real estate business here, and will occupy his former offices with the S. B. LeSourd and Company, 4 to 6 North Detroit Street.

Mr. Prugh gave up his business to become Ohio superintendent of the division of Building and Loan Associations, with offices at Columbus, under former Governor Harry L. Davis, in which capacity he served two years.

His political position necessitated his retirement from active real estate work in Xenia for a period. His resumption in that field follows twenty-four years experience in the business in Xenia.

JOURNALISM COURSE SUBJECT OF TALK

COURT NEWS

BRINGS SUIT ON NOTE

Suit to collect $2,782, alleged due on a promissory note, has been filed in Common Pleas Court by The Exchange Bank of Cedarville through its attorneys, W. L. Miller and J. A. Finney against Harry and Dorcas Townsley.

Harry Townsley had recently filed suit against the Cedarville bank for $1,895.40 alleging the defendants had misappropriated funds delivered into its hands.

In that suit the plaintiff claimed that he had left with the defendant a note for $1,895.40 for cattle sold to James and Flo Frame payable to himself.

The plaintiff alleged that the note would be taken up February 17 and said that he had entered into an agreement with the bank to apply funds on his indebtedness to the bank.

The bank received the money but refused to carry out the agreement and either the cashier or other employees misappropriated the money for their own use, according to the petition. Marcus Shoup and Harry D. Smith were retained as attorneys for the plaintiff.

EAST HIGH SCHOOL GETS RECOGNITION FROM ASSOCIATION

A notable recognition, acceptance or membership by the North Central Association of College and High Schools, had been accorded East High School, this city.

The following statement was contained in a letter received by C. A. Waltz, superintendent of city schools, Monday:

"I am pleased to advise you that your East High School was accepted for membership by the North Central Association of College and High Schools.

"Very truly yours,
"C. B. Ulery,
High School Supervisor,
"Ohio State Department of Education."

East High School has already been accredited as a first-grade high school by the State Department of Education, but this new recognition is the highest possible standing and means that East High School's principal, Arthur Taylor and his corps of teachers have met the most rigid requirements of this association.

It also means that East High School meets the following standards: hygenic conditions; laboratory and library facilities; units of graduation, tone and spirit; salary; qualifications of principal and teachers; periods per teacher; pupil-teacher ratio; program of studies and adequacy of teaching staff. It means further, according to Superintendent Waltz, that a graduate of East High School will be accepted for entrance in any college or university in any of the North Central Association sfates without examination.

In order to be retained on this list East High School will have to continue to grow in all the above standards. There will be no standing still tolerated, according to the association rules. All Xenia school officials, including the board of education, will do everything possible to keep East High on the list.

According to the inspector who recently visited East High School it is the only colored school of its kind which has received recognition by the North Central Association.

The North Central Association is composed of recognized high schools and colleges in the following states with inter-state relations with similar schools all over the United States: Arizona, Illinois, Indiana, Lowa, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, New Mexico, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Wisconsin and Wyoming.

"This official recognition is due to the efforts of Principal Taylor and the progressive teachers in his corps as well as the co-operation and interest of the Xenia City Board of Education. From now on East High School of this city will be on equal footing with the big city high schools" Superintendent Waltz said.

BERNARR MACFADDEN

Health Hints by the Father of Physical Culture

It is a curious but necessary provision of Nature that the blood, besides carrying the digested nourishment and the life-giving oxygen to all portions of the body, also removes all of the waste, poisonous products from the system. And from the very nature of our physical organization, the blood is the only agent that can be employed in this dual capacity.

It must be understood, of course, that each of the organs has a circulatory system of its own. Now, impure blood is brought into the kidneys through a channel known as the renal artery. This artery subdivides, and the subdivision is carried on and on, until every portion of the kidneys is supplied with arterial blood. From the branches of the arteries the blood passes into capillaries, which are the minute channels that exist between arteries and veins. But in the kidneys, instead of a single system there is a double system of capillaries. These capillaries exist in numerous plexuses or net-works, and before the blood can pass into the renal vein it must flow through the capillary membranes and thus on through the entire and complicated system of these minute vessels

Now, the blood contains a surplus of water and, in solution, many waste matters, the most important of which is a substance called urea. While passing through the capillaries the blood is filtered; the surplus water and the solids that it holds in solution are absorbed through the thin membranes, and are passed on, while the blood thus purified enters the roots of the venous system that empties into the renal vein. In this manner, the blood that has been ridded of its waste products is returned to the general circulation.

Not all the surplus moisture can be carried off by the kidneys. The skin has its share to do. If the skin be not active in its work of excreting surplus toxic moisture then that much more is forced upon the kidneys, and the laiter organs, when overworked, become weakened and diseased.

The skin has three purposes. It protects the delicate tissues of the outer surfaces of the body; it acts as an organ of sense (touch) and it excretes moisture.

BOGUS PROHIBITION MEN ATTACK WOMAN

Dayton, March 30, — Mrs. Martha Brill, who operates a roadhouse on the Valley Pike, about one mile outside the Dayton corporation line, was attacked by bogus prohibition agents early Monday morning and $40 taken from beneath a carpet in her bedroom.

The three men raided the roadhouse and after threatening to torture Mrs. Brill, rendered her partly unconscious by a blow on the jaw, stole the money and escaped.

Sheriff Howard E. Webster, Montgomery County, ordered a thorough search of the county for the trio.

Mrs. Brill's roadhouse was raided several weeks ago by county and state officers.

BLIND WRITER OF HYMNS IS EXTOLLED AT CHURCH SUNDAY

Services at the First Baptist Church Sunday evening were in memory of Fanny Crosby, blind writer of eight thousand gospel songs and hymns who died in 1915 at the age of 95 years. A pageant depicting her life was presented by the Young People of the church in which her blindness and her power to overcome obstacles were the main points.

Fanny Crosby was born in Southeast, N. Y. in 1820 and at the age of six weeks was afflicted with blindness. During her lifetime she was credited with eight thousand gospel songs and hymns, many of them being well known through the nation, "Blessed Assurance," "Hold Thou My Hand," "Pass Me Not, O Gentle Saviour", "Saved By Grace" "Jesus Is Tenderly Calling," and "God Be With You Till We Meet Again" being among those best known.

One of the important features of her life was her ability to keep in mind many different poems before dictating, and at one time was known to have kept forty poems in mind before they were dictated and set to music.

The pastor, the Rev. R. E. Brown, in his address stressed the point of the life of Fanny Crosby as an example to the world of the power to overcome obstacles. Her blindness was not a handicap to her life and though her eyes could not see, her ears heard much" and she made the most of her life.

A good attendance marked the evening service.

WILL BURY GROCER KILLED BY BANDIT AT CEDARVILLE

Funeral services for Emmons Hartsook, 60, 1425 Franklin Avenue, Columbus, who died Monday from injuries received when he was attacked by bandits in his grocery, Saturday, will be held Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock at the chapel of the Denton and Donaldson Company. Interment will be made at Cedarville, it was announced by James Milburn, of Cedarville, a half-brother, who is Mr. Hartsook's only living near relative.

Columbus authorities arrested Girard Morgan, Columbus, Saturday night for investigation in connection with the crime. The prisoner has thus far refused to give police any valuable clue which might lead to a solution of the mystery.

Police are holding a bloodstained hatchet found in the Hartsock grocery as evidence in the case believing the fatal blows were struck with this instrument. Fingerprints discovered on the base of the handle proved worthless as a clue being smeared with blood and blurred.

ANTIOCH OPPOSES WILMINGTON NINE

Division "B" baseball team of Antioch College, will open its spring diamond season Wednesday at Yellow Springs opposing the strong Wilmington nine in the afternoon at 2:45 o'clock.

The Antiochians have eight letter men back in the fold but the squad is somewhat handicaped by the absence of a good hurler. Two outfielders have been pressed into temporary service to fill the vacancy and it is probable that both will be given a chance in Wednesday's game.

Antioch has a veteran outfield with six men who hit above .300 last year back in line and is favored to win the first clash of the season from Coach "Shifty" Bolen's nine.

JUNIORS BEAT SOPHS IN CLASS CONTEST

Juniors defeated sophomores 11 to 0 at Cox Memorial Athletic Field Monday afternoon in an inter-class baseball game.

Seniors defeated the freshmen 11 to 2 last week and then defeated the sophomores 18 to 3. The juniors will play the freshmen Wednesday night and then will meet the seniors Friday evening.

The lineups for Monday's game contain two descrepancies, the sophomores being without the services of a short stop while the juniors were shy a center fielder. They are: Sophomores—Haverstick, rf; Burr, cf; Cramer, lf; Graham, p; Tull, c; Downey, 1b; Dudley, 2b; Dentley, 3b; Juniors—Parrott, c; Scurry, p; Finlay, ss; Nash, 1b; Stearns, 2b; Sutton, 3b; Henrie, rf; Collins, lf.

Bowling

The Winchesters continued to perform in unusual bowling style Monday night by copping one game in three from the leading Arcade "5" and losing the middle game by but five pins. The unexpected defeat throws the league leaders into easy striking distance of the Quoit Club.

Creamer and Pesavento tied for high average honors while Pesavento rolled the only 200 score of the match. Box score:

The contract was released by the Mahoing County Commissioners and the local concern entered the lowest bid out of eleven submitted by large contractors of the state.

Work will be started immediately by the Loyd company, and will be supervised by James Loyd. The machinery of the contracting company will be used and a large force of workmen employed. Myron Lane represented the company at the opening of bids last week.

KNIGHTHOOD TO BE GIVEN LARGE CLASS

All lodge deputies of Greene County are asked to attend a meeting of Ivanhoe Lodge No. 56, at Pythian Castle Hall Wednesday night, April 1, at 7:30 o'clock when a large class of candidates will receive the rank of Knight. Nearly three hundred members are expected to attend the meeting.

Deputy Grand Chancellor Benjamin Merrick will have charge of the meeting. After initiation of candidates, business of importance will be transacted followed by a social hour. Speeches will also be on the program.

LOCAL TRAINERS ARE MENTIONED BY SCRIBE

E. L. Churchill, racing scribe, has the following to say about Greene County trainers and harness racing horses:

"Joe Hagler, the Xenia trainer, is busy this spring with a stable full of trotters and pacers, included in the number, being his good pacer, Silver Pointer, 2:08 1-4 and Ross Harvester 2:14 1-4, a trotter that he raced with success in 1924.

"It is said that Ed Fogwell, the Osborn trainer and owner of the pacers, Al Bingen, 2:07 1-4; and Al Jennings, 2:14 1-4, that he wintered at Orlando, Fla., was recently offered $10,000 for the pair."

CARLYLE BROTHERS BILLED TO CONNECT WITH BIG TIME BALL

Tampa, Fla., March 31—Major league baseball has known many brother-acts notably the O'Neills the Johnstons, Doc and Jimmy; the Meusels, the Coveleskies, the Barnes, ect., and because those mentioned were the cream of the field and made good, it is assumed by some that one star in the famliy will and does create another. Which is several fathoms under the truth.

The season of 1925, however, will have as one of its feature offerings the brothers Carlyle, of Detroit and Washington, and their chance of making good in the majors at one and the same time is said to be more than a bare possibility. Both are outfielders. Both are hitters of rather extraordinary ability—or were in the minors.

Roy, the elder, is with Washington at the moment. He hit .368 with Memphis last year and led the Southern League. H. C., who is little more than eighteen, is believed to be so highly esteemed by Ty Cobb that the Georgian has selected him as his ultimate successor-in-prospect. The younger Carlyle hit .346 with Charlotte last season, his first in professional baseball. He really seems to be an unusual prospect.

H. C. has one vital asset which Roy lacks—speed. He can step around the outfield with the best of them or streak down to first base well in front of the average infield tap. Roy has no such ability. He merely takes it out in hitting, but does it so often and lustily that the Senators are not disposed to let him get far from their sight. They have more outfielders than they need this year, but if Roy continues to hit like he did with Memphis, someone else, perforce, will have to go.

Since Washington and Detroit have been nominated to a place among the leading pennant contenders, it is possible that some fine afternoon may see both Carlyles get their chance in the outfield and the age-old equation of brother versus brother will have another revival.

MITCHELL ASSIGNED TO SAN ANTONIO AREA

Washington, March 31—Brigadier General William Mitchell, at the termination of his term as assistant chief of air service on April 27, will be transferred to San Antonio, Texas, as air service officer in the Eighth Corps area, the war department announced today.

Announcement of Mtchell's new assignment created great interest in congressional circles because of the predictions freely made during the air service controversy that the flying general would be given a post far away from Washington.

Mitchell's new post at San Antonio is considered the most important air post in the field.

At San Antonio, General Mitchell succeeds Lieutenant Colonel Clarence C. Culver.

"NOT POSSIBLE TO CLASSIFY" BY MACK SAUER

Well, the talk at the Hammer Club headquarters yesterday was of a fish John Schultz is reported to have almost caught. It is said it weighed 56 lbs. and that Schultz had it above water and saw its scales. That's how he knows the weight.

He is reported to be working on an invention for digging worms. It is said to be an attachment to a telephone. From the attachment is a wire which when put into the ground causes the worms to come to the surface. However, if it is going to be as difficult to get an angleworm as it is to get central, McGinnis and I will continue using the spade.

SPEAKING OF FISHING

"A fish hook I find,"
Said William Dish,
"Catches on everything
Except a fish."

The idea of the invention is this. When the phone rings it will tickle the angle worms and they will come to the surface so that they can stop wiggling. What we need is something that will get Central to come in, so that the subscriber will be tickled and will stop wiggling the receiver.

All we care to add is that if a fellow had an angleworm on the hook every time he takes the receiver off the hook and finds some one has the wrong number, the supply would more than equal the demand.

EVERHART HEARD FROM

Now Everhart I
Think would wish
The old river
Would be full of fish.

Still, it perhaps is a waste of time to be discussing the question of fishing. The fishing line, like a lot of others we know of, will be busy most of the time during the summer.

You drop an angleworm into the water and the bobber tips indicating that you have a bite. Then comes the word from the fish that it was a mistake, beg pardon.

DUMB DORA

"Tell me dear,"
Said Tillie Drolls,
"Is Mussolini
A kind of shoals?"

Fishing tackle is advertised on this page today. Applications for membership to the Hammer Club are still coming in. Phone an ad tomorrow.

MORE INTELLIGENT BUYING NEEDED TO STABILIZE BUSINESS

Babson Park, Florida, March 30.—Prices have again turned upward. Various commodity indices and the cost of living figures show that the average is rising. The question as to the effect of this tendency on general business was put today to Roger W. Babson, the statistician and economist.

"The first effect of rising prices is a stimulant to business," says the statistician. "When things start to go up the people who have been waiting buy. Manufacturers also stock up with materials. As the movement continues, however, the same tendency becomes a brake on business. When prices get above the level that most people consider fair value, they stop buying altogether. As a matter of fact the average buyer goes at the thing in haphazard fashion.

Statistics have their uses but also their abuses. The cost of living indices are useful to the statistician; but are often dangerous in the hands of the laymen. Fisher's Index is probably the best price index in existence today being weighted scientifically. Even this, however, must be used with discretion. When the Fisher, the Bradstreet, or any other price index shows an increase it should be remembered that this applies only to the average of all commodities. When we purchase commodities we do not buy the average list, but we buy specific articles. Therefore, altho it is well to watch Fisher's Index, yet the important thing when purchasing is to study the position of the specific commodity or article which one is purchasing.

"Numerous illustrations might be given showing that although the general price Index has risen, all prices have not risen. For instance, one can obtain more actual value for a dollar today when purchasing an automobile than at any previous time in history. Not only are the automobiles lower priced, but the quality, durability, and efficiency are being materially increased. This does not mean that automobiles may not be further reduced in price. They probably will be as time goes on, but even at the same price one will be getting more in actual value in 1925 than in any previous year. This same fact applies to tires, oil, gasoline, batteries, and practically all accessories connected with this growing industry.

"Another illustration of lowering prices is the electric current which we use for lighting, power and other purposes. While the securities of light and power companies have been going up, the price of the commodity itself has been going down. In this respect, the electric power business is just the opposite of the telephone business. The cost of the latter increases per unit as the telephone subscribers increase in number; but the cost of electric power decreases per unit as the amount used increases. Electricity for light and power is being bought for less today than in any time in its history, and even lower prices will be introduced in many communities during 1925. Among the household commodities there is sugar which everyone uses and which is selling for less today, with the exception of late 1921 and early 1922, than it has for nine years.

"Without doubt the American people need to be educated in connection with buying. The advertisement which attracts them into the store has been developed until it can be depended upon for almost certain results. The sales person is carefully and thoroughly trained. The selling of goods has become a fine science but very little has been done to help the public to buy intelligently. As a result of this people buy everything when they are flush, and then stop almost entirely and buy as little as possible. This is one cause of our successive periods of prosperity and depression. The average buyer, whether a man or a woman, is a good deal like the brakeman on a railroad train. If some lone passenger suggests that the car is too cool the brakeman turns on all the heat and shuts the ventilators. The car stays that way until someone suggests that the car is getting too warm; then the brakeman turns off all the heat and opens wide the ventilators.

"There is always some commodity or article that is too high and careful buyers restrict their purchases of such a product until it comes down in price. On the other hand, there is always some article that is selling around normal or even below the cost of production. Certain lines of shoes are an illustration of such an article today. When such a condition exists, careful buyers will purchase all they need for some time to come, even tho the Price Index, which is the average for all articles, is higher than ever. Such a sensible policy on the part of the buyers would do much to cut down the dangerous peaks of over expansion and fill in the valleys of depression. Moreover, these erratic conditions must be eliminated if we are to have business really healthy, happy and prosperous."

VILLAGES TO OPPOSE EFFORTS OF JANTHA CO. TO DROP SERVICE

Whether the Jantha Fuel and Gas Company has the authority to abandon its line in the southwestern part of Ohio and Indiana which supplies more than twelve villages and cities with gas including Fairfield, Osborn and Yellow Springs, or must obtain a permit from the Public Utilities Commission will be decided at a hearing before the state Supreme Court April 15.

The Jantha company contends that it is given the option to abandon the line at expiration of its franchise claiming the line is being operated at a loss. The ten year franchise expired last October.

Attorney J. A. Finney, of Xenia, and P. A. Sailor, of Eaton, have been appointed by the eight villages in the southern section of the state to represent them at the hearing maintaining that the gas company does not have jurisdiction in the case.

The dozen villages are supplied with fuel directly by the Logan Gas Company, a subsidiary concern of the Jantha company which is the distributing agency.

Court proceedings were instituted indirectly against the Jantha people but naming the Logan company defendant by various villages affected by the proposal and restraining orders were allowed in Common Pleas Court enjoining the company temporarily from discontinuing the gas supply.

Injunction suits were filed in the local Common Pleas Court by Attorney Morris Rice, representing Osborn and J. A. Finney for Fairfield and Yellow Springs and similar restraining orders were allowed.

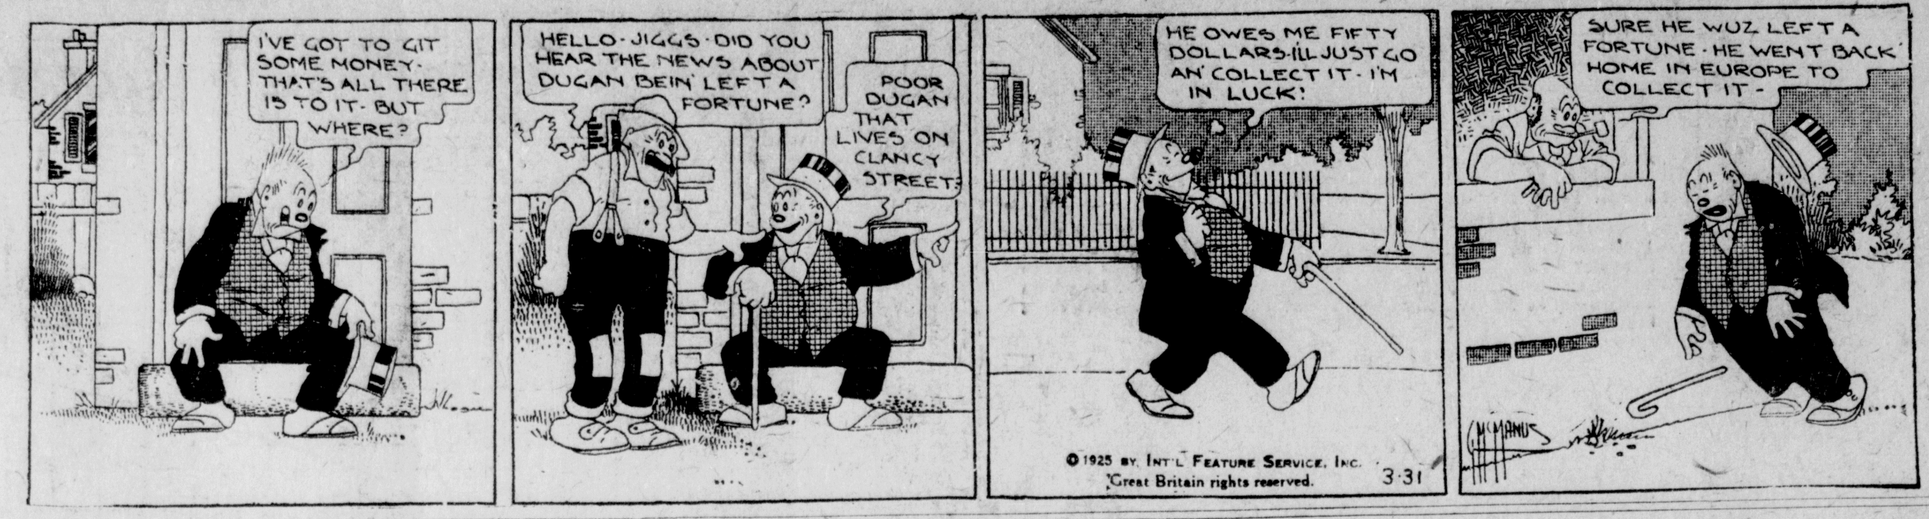
BRNGING UP FATHER By GEORGE McMANUS



Michael's Marriage

By MICHAEL

CHAPTER III.

On the Monday morning that Michael returned to the desk of the secretary and assistant treasurer, in the office of the Eclipse Manufacturer Company, makers of electrical supplies, he found a note from Arthur Manning, the president: "Please come in and see me when you have time." Michael went in as soon as he knew Manning would be there, wondering what the president had on his mind.

Manning arose as Michael entered, to grip him tightly by the arm and tap him on the shoulder in a fatherly way.

"Words cannot express Mrs. Manning's and my own feelings" he said. Michael looked at the floor, and wished that people wouldn't try to condole. He had found comforting words discomforting.

They sat down opposite each other. "There are two things I wish to take up with you." Manning began. "First, I want to say that if you can, turn over your office to Mr. Inglesby for a while, and go out to our Chicago office. I suggest this merely because you may desire a change of scenery at this time."

The idea appealed to Michael. "Not right now, Arthur, but a little later, perhaps."

"Any time you say. I'd like to give Richards a little scare by sending a home office man up there for a while. He needs waking up."

Michael didn't like the idea of playing spy, but he did not comment.

"The other matter I wish to take up with you concerns your mother's—and now your interest in the company. It would be advantageous to us if you were able to vote it in the annual meeting in August. Old Bagby and his trust company are too conservative. Of course a trustee ought to be conservative. But I think you understand far better than Bagby the best interest of this company."

"Us— to whom did Manning refer? That was the question that turned over in Michael's mind. Did he mean himself and Jacobs, who was anxious, Michael knew, to get control, or the company?

"I have been thinking about it." Michael responded. "Of course, I can do nothing until the estate is settled. As her will makes me the sole heir, there won't be any hitches, but it'll take time to put is through the courts. That will be probated tomorrow."

When their talk was over, Michael went out with a feeling that Manning had something up his sleeve. He had never cared for Manning particularly. Michael didn't like the bustling, back-slapping booster which was Manning's type. Yet, he had to admit, Manning had made the Eclipse Manufacturing Company a big success. It had grown from the puny firm founded by Michael's father and two associates, to one of the two largest industries in the city and was rapidly spreading out over the country and into foreign lands. The Menlow interest in the company, once a third, was now approximately an eighth, with no one person in control.

"I'm going to have to watch Manning and Jacobs," Michael decided. "I wonder if there's something back of his suggestion that I go to Chicago?" Despite this doubt, he thought more and more of the idea of going there for a while. He remembered it as a struggling giant more beautiful, and more American, than New York. Besides, he would get to see Elaine again.

Elaine—he had not thought of her for a long time. It was a year now since he had seen her. He wondered if she had fallen in love, or even married He saw her now as he remembered her best, a classical figure in a bathing suit, at the house party given by the Claypools at Star lake; her coal-black hair streaming over her shoulders, and her laugh as thrilling and infectious as tobogganing.

He remembered now that he had a snapshot of her somewhere in his desk, and set about to find it, disregarding the collection of mail awaiting his attention. The snapshot came to sight five minutes later, with a letter Alonzo Capper had sent him, enclosing it. It showed Elaine dressed for tennis, her hair bandaged back, that same infectious smile on display. The dress she wore indicated her superb build.

And she was intelligent, and deeply thoughtful. Michael remembered their arguments over Schopenhauer's essay on women, with her defending it, and he, strangely, assailing it.

Yes, he would like to go to Chicago for a while.

DOWN AND OUT MOTHER COMES BACK; SURPRISES ENTIRE FAMILY

She had worked, loved and was happy in doing for her children, and when she started to decline they were most downhearted and willing to do almost anything to make her last years happy and free from worry and illness. Nothing they did seemed to help—doctors, medicines or rest gave no results.

Finally, when all were about desperate with worry a neighbor induced them to try Kath, as it had worked such wonders with her mother. Ready to grasp at any help they got a supply and the way their mother improved from the start was almost too good to believe. It was only about six weeks before she had completely recovered and was doing her housework, happy and contented, as of old. It sure was a happy and reunited family and they are all recommending Kath to their friends now.

Doctors the world over will tell you that Kath, composed of fresh extracts of Glands, Phosphates, Iron and Herbs, will build up and restore strength and energy against old age and nervous breakdowns. One of our leading physicians says:

"The results I have obtained with Kath gland tonic have been wonderful; especially with elderly men and women where it was necessary to build up strength and revive bodily functions, Kath has given them renewed youth, life, strength and health."

"No one should despair or even think of giving up when they can build themselves up to healthy, vigorous womanhood and manhood and regain their strength, happiness and youthful appearance with only a few weeks' use of Kath."

PERSHING TO ATTEMPT TO SETTLE CONTROVERSY BETWEEN CHILE AND PERU OVER TITLE TO TACNA-ARICA

Dispute Between South American Nations Places United States as Empire in Delicate Position—Peru Displeased With Coolidge Decision.

Washington, March 31.—General John Pershing has a task cut out for him now that the smoothest diplomats in Washington are shaking their heads over.

He is to supervise the plebescite that is to settle the age-old controversy between Chile and Peru over the ownership of Tacna-Arica, the Alsace-Lorraine of South America.

Difficult at best, General Pershing's task has been rendered doubly so in the last 48 hours by the serious charges Peru has lodged against Chile here in Washington, and the uncompromising attitude assumed by the Peruvians.

The resentment that Peru feels over the award made by President Coolidge, as umpire in the dispute has manifested itself in a note, which, by the most liberal translation from the original Spanish can only be characterized as "sharp."

The Peruvian embassy has been laboring over the document for two days now, seeking to tone down the language and soften the harshness of it before its presentation to the state department.

The note was to be then forwarded to Secretary of State Kellogg for transmission to President Coolidge. It not only takes violent exception to the president's decision as umpire of the dispute, but it accuses Chile of various and sundry crimes in the disputed area, and insists upon American troops being sent there to replace the Chileans until the election is held to determine the nationality of the province.

How to placate the Peruvian government, without admitting its allegations against the Chilean government is the delicate issue before the president and Secretary Kellogg. Obviously, it was said today, American troops cannot be sent to the disputed province to replace the Chilean troops now there without conceding the correctness of Peru's charges of military despotism and terrorism against the Chileans. And to concede that would lead to Chilean resenement that officials do not like to contemplate. The whole conrovesy is of much greater importance to the American government, than appears on the surface.

The whole of the Latin and South America is watching the progress of this dispute and eagerly awaiting its outcome. The prestige of the United States in the entire western hemisphere is more or less involved for the neighbors of Chile and Peru have taken sides.

On the part of administration officials there is the frank fear that the old adage of the peacemaker getting the "black eye" will work out in this case.

The peacemaker in this case is the United States.

The controversy was inherited by the Coolidge-Kellogg administration from the Harding-Hughes regime. The late President Harding's zeal for promotion of peace and better understanding throughout the western hemisphere, prompted him to urge an adjustment of the Tacna-Arica dispute, a festering sore in South America for more than half a century. Both Peru and Chile agreed to accept his decision as umpire, and upon his death the task fell to President Coolidge.

The award to which Peru now takes exception, was written by Secretary of State Hughes. It ordered a plebescite to determine the nationality of the province. Peru now charges that the plebescite to be supervised by Pershing, is being "doctored" by Chile by the sending of thousands of Chilean laborers into the province against election day and by the terrorism instituted by Chilean troops among Peruvian sympathizers in the area.

It will be General Pershing's task to so conduct this plebescite and to so steer a middle course, that Peru and Chile will be kept from going to War again and American prestige in South America will be enhanced, rather than smashed by the ultimate result. Diplomats do not envy him his job.

Accuses Bandit

Miss Catherine Bourne, a bookkeeper of a Steubensville, Ohio, automobile company, testified in the Hartford, Conn., trial of Gerald Chapman, notorious bandit, for the alleged murder of Policeman James Skelly, that she saw Chapman in her employer's store on April 5, 1924, the day before a sedan mysteriously disappeared. The missing car was traced to within five hundred feet of the spot where Patrolman Skelly met his death in New Britain, Conn. The car was registered under the name of Waldo W. Miller, which, according to State's Attorney Alcorn, is a Chapman alias.

SIX ARE SENTENCED AS ECHO OF CANTON CLEANUP LAST YEAR

Men Convicted By Federal Jury Of Conspiracy Are Given Fines In Court

Cleveland, O., March 31—An aftermath of the cleanup of the Canton safety department last year, resulted today in the imposing of heavy sentences and fines upon six men—five from Canton—when they were found guilty by the federal grand jury of conspiring to violate the federal prohibition law.

Harry Bouklas, Canton, who turned state's evidence, armed prosecutors with evidence adequate enough to convict five of seven others who had been indicted. He was fined $100 and sentenced to three months in the workhouse. Other penalties were:

Alex Peterson, Canton, 15 months and $500.

Gus Papas, Canton, 15 months and $500.

Clyde Goldfus, New Philadelphia, 15 months and $500.

Peter Valos, a year and a day, and $300.

Gus Tchilaris, Canton, four months and $100.

Bauklas, who said he was "collector" for the Canton safety department, accepting money for alleged police protection, reviewed how the ring took bonded whiskey from the basement of the Canton Drug Company and substituted for it moonshine liquor that had been manufactured by members of the ring. The good liquor was bootlegged by two others in the gang who received from $90 to $100 for their work.

The government whiskey was originally stored in the basement of the drug store by prohibition agents who seized it. The whiskey—100 cases—had been found on a truck near Alliance, Ohio, by the agents. It was secured at Pittsburgh on a fake permit, they said.

Forbes, former head of the United States Veteran's bureau, stricken with a blood clot on the brain, which has produced a paralysis of his left side, was still in a grave condition today. PRISONERS SHOT AS PATRIOTIC DUTY

Warsaw, March 3.—Soviet reprisals against Poles held in Russia were feared today from the sensational killing of two Polish communists, former army officers. N. Baginsky and Weczorkiwicz, who were shot to death by Police Sergeant Muraszio as he was escorting them to the soviet frontier for exchange. The two communists had twice been sentenced to death and reprieved by President Wojciechowski, of Poland.

The Soviet agreed to exchange for them thirty four Poles, most of whom had been sentenced to death by soviet tribunals.

Muraszio shot them a few minutes before they would have been delivered at the border and declared he had performed a patriotic duty.

Scores of ambulances were sent to care for the injured.

Many of the passengers were killed as they slept when the trains, one a passenger train from Tashkent, Turkistan and the other a suburban train, collided at Sokolniki Park.

Several coaches were smashed, including the international sleeper from Tashkent. The bodies of the victims were buried in the debris.

Mounted militia were called to keep back the crowds of curious, while railroad men attempted to rescue those who were caught in the tangled wreckage.

TESTIMONY OF SHEAN THROWS SHADOW OF NOOSE ON CHAPMAN

Defense Counsel Begins Savage Cross-examination Of State Witness At Trial

Hartford, Conn., March 31.—With the shadow of the noose cast about the neck of Gerald Chapman, mail bandit, through the testimony of Walter E. Shean, at the Chapman trial for murder, defense counsel today began a savage examination of Shean.

Shean took the witness stand with the same self possession he exhibited at yesterday's trial, when he identified Chapman as the "Mr. Miller," who broke into the New Britain department store on October 12, which resulted in the killing of Policeman James Skelley.

Sheen testified he aided Chapman in the robbery.

Attorney Frederick J. Groehl launched immediately into an assault on the Shean testimony. Shean said he was 38 years old and divorced, living in Springfield, Massachusetts. He testified George Brown introduced Chapman to him last June.

"You didn't know Brown was a safe breaker?"

"No."

CANDIDATES IN LEAD MAY BE DROPPED

Berlin, March 31.—Neither of the leading candidates in the presidential election "rehearsal" will be in the election proper April 26, according to every indication today. The "reichbloc," which stood behind Dr. Karl Jarres, in the first vote, is willing to drop him just as the socialists are ready to drop out to Braun for the sake of victory in the second balloting.

Newspapers on both sides are urging the selection of candidates more widely acceptable. In spite of the claim of Republican parties that their total vote showed a "victory over the monarchists,' a Republican victory in the second election depends entirely upon the selection of a suitable candidate. This problem promises to be extremely difficult.

QUAKES NOTICED

Reno, Nev., March 31.—Slight earthquakes were found today to have been recorded on the University of Nevada seismograph here. The shocks, which were of short duration, registered at 9:51 and 10:09 o'clock last night. The first movement was along a North and South line, while the second was east and west. Both shocks were estimated to be within a fifty mile radius.

Rich Laborer

Born and reared in an atmosphere of millions, Fowler McCormick, son of Harold F. McCormick, International Harvester magnate, of Chicago, and Edith Rockefeller McCormick, is working nine hours a day in the Milwaukee, Wis., plant of the harvester company, loading metal pigs on wagons. His salary is $15 a week, four of which he pays out for board in a cheap rooming house. Fowler McCormick is the godson of Fifi Potter Stillman, former wife of James A. Stillman, ex-president of the National City Bank of New York, and took the job on her advice.

SELECTION OF JURY TO TEST SANITY OF MATRICIDE STARTED

Murder Jury Will Go On If Sanity Jury Finds Ellingson Girl Is Not Insane

San Francisco, March 31—The task of securing 12 men and women to search mind and soul of Dorothy Ellingson, 16 year matricide for the determination of her sanity, was started today in the same courtroom in which twelve men and women were selected last week to try her for murder.

The undertaking promised to be little less wearisome and nerve wearing, upon the youthful defendant than was the collection of the murder jury which passed into temporary suspension pending the investigation of the girl's sanity.

The proceedings were expected to be little less formal and when the issue is submitted to the jury for determination, nine members in agreement can return a verdict. Civil procedure rather than criminal, will rule in the sanity test.

If the verdict is sane, then the murder trial will be resumed at the point where it was halted. If the jury finds Dorothy is now insane, she will be committed to an asylum. The murder indictment will stand against her and if reason ever returns, she may be tried upon the murder charge.

The state will not permit the girl to be declared insane without a bitter fight. Their expectation that they will be able to prove her sane, was indicated in their refusal to stipulate that the jury empanelled for her murder trial be used to try her sanity.

This jury they say may be needed later.

On the other hand, the defense, confident that their preliminary showing had been convincing, declared their belief that the girl will be shown to be not only insane but physically unable to continue with her murder trial. Tomorrow Dr. Jau Don Ball specialist, in mental and nervous diseases and lecturer on kriminology at the University of California, will be the chief witness supported by several other alienists. The state will rely largely on Dr. Joseph Gatton, well known alienist who believes the girl sane.

BRIDGE COLLAPSES AND FIFTY DROWN

Detmold, Germany, March 31.—Fifty of the reichswehr troops were believed drowned when a pontoon bridge, across the Upper Weiser river, broke during maneuvers today.

Hundreds of the soldiers were hurled into the river.

BATTLE OF WITS BEGINS BETWEEN DONAHEY AND REPUBLICAN HEADS OVER FATE OF FAVORITE MEASURES

Confirmation of Appointments, Legislative Program and Bible Bill Hang On Results of Contest— Governor Will "Bulldog" Solons.

Columbus, O., March 31.—A contest of wits with big prizes at stake—is being fought, under cover, here in Columbus, while the legislature, worn out after three months of law making, is home for a rest. It is a battle between the shrewd advisors of Governor Donahey and Republican legislative leaders, coached by political leaders "back home."

There are few stage settings. The action is in secret in various offices, the doors are closed.

On the result of this contest of wits depend:

Confirmation or rejection of Governor Donahey's four main appointments.

Control of the state utilities commission which hinges on action by the senate on the governor's appointments to the commission.

The fate of the Republican organization program, not necessarily the majority legislative program, looking toward scuttling of the direct primary system for nomination of candidates for higher elective offices.

Wound up in all this is the fate of the famous Bible bill, which thus far has rocked most of the legislative machinery, because rejection of this measures, friends of the bill say, will result in confirmation of the governor's main appointments.

Governor Donahey is to be the attacking force in the newest row between the executive and the legislature. He has his coat off and his sleeves rolled up, ready for any sort of a bout.

Here is the governor's program, as outlined by one of his closest advisers.

He does not intend to permit the legislature, if he can find any power under the constitution to stop it, to stage another long winded recess like that of two years ago by which Republican leaders avoided action on his appointments, his friends declare.

If they start another such recess, the governor proposes to summon the law makers back every week and insist that they complete what legislative and advisory tasks they have before them and then adjourn, his friends say. He will do this every week or a year, if necessary, it is declared. If, despite these tactics the legislature persists in another recess, the governor proposes to obtain final determination whether the legislature has authority to do so—whether while in such a recess the legislature is "in position to transact business," as required by the constitution.

The governor proposes to "bulldog" the legislature until he gets some sort of action, whatever it is, his advisers say.

The anticipated battle is expected to bring to a focus the question of the separate entities of the executive and legislative branches of the state government. It is also likely to develop large supplies of ammunition for whatever campaigns are in the wind in 1926, it is pointed out.

Legislative leaders have their own plan of action and it is not likely to be altered much by any tactics by the governor. When Majority Leader Robert A. Taft, Hamilton, threw down the gauge of battle to the governor last week with his remark about the governor's flair for "destructive criticism," legislative leaders signified that they would fight their own battles from now on, with no hope of co-operation between the two branches of government, it is said.

As a result, they propose to go ahead with their plan to meet April 16, pass over the governor's veto, whatever legislation they have set their hearts upon, take whatever action is decided upon the governor's appointments and then recess to March 1, 1926, when a special session is proposed to pass tax and election law codification acts.

Their scheme, however, is likely to be upset. Backers of the Bible bill have just discovered that if they are able to pass the measure in the senate they will have no opportunity to pass it over the governor's possible veto, if they go right home again.

So, it is reported, they plan to stay around Columbus until the governor's ten days for consideration of the bill have passed, and then, if he should veto it, they will try to pass it over his veto.

Insistence in some quarters that the Aigler resolution proposing abolition of the direct primary system for selection of candidates for state, district and municipal elective offices, a scheme backed by some of the Republican county leaders, is also likely to delay the leaders plan for a short session and then a recess until next spring.

As a result of all these moves, close observers believe that the coming "short" session is likely to develop into a grind of at least two and three weeks of wrangling before the legislature finally goes home until another spring rolls around.

ROBBERS LOOT SAFE OF NEW YORK HOTEL; THOUSANDS TAKEN

Guest At Hotel Accomplice Of Bandits Who Hold Up Clerk And Rifle Safe

New York, March 31—Robbers looted the safe of the Aberdeen Hotel early today and took all money and valuables which guests had deposited for safekeeping. There were thousands of dollars worth of jewelry in the safe, hotel officials said.

One robber was an affable guest at the hotel.

He came down from his room at 1:30 this morning and returned with another man. The affable guest handed the night clerk a package to put in the safe. Once the safe was open, he covered the clerk with a revolver. The other robbers then appeared.

The clerk, an elevator boy, a bell boy and two guests, who came in, all were tied with fish line, while the robbers completed their work. A few minutes after the robbery, a patrolman at Seventy Second Street and Columbus Avenue saw a high powered automobile coming away from the downtown district, where the Aberdeen Hotel is located, at a terrific speed.

The driver refused to stop on the patrolman's signal.

A pursuit was begun by motorcycle officers, with the officers firing on the automobile and the occupants firing at the police. Two of the officers, George S. Sahadi and William Stolva were wounded and the car outdistanced the police.

A short time later another policeman found a deserted and bullet riddled automobile on Hamilton terrace and 44th Street. In it were three shotguns, three revolvers, a cash box and a satchel.

OVERRULES APPEAL OF MURDERESS

Columbus, March 31—Emma Colivato convicted of poisoning Mariano Constanza, Cleveland, February 23, 1920, today lost her last fight for freedom, when the state supreme court overruled her motion for leave to appeal. She is serving a life sentence in the Marysville reformatory for women.

The Colivato woman was charged with having administered arsenic in medicine given Constanza as an alleged cure for drink.

Mrs. Fanny Constanza, the slain man's wife, was freed after trial.

MIGRATION HEAVIER

Defiance, March 31—Migration of jobless wanderers is heavier this spring through Defiance than for many years, records of "sleepers", kept by Police Chief Weaner, show. Since January 1, last, 220 migrants were given overnight lodging in the city prison; 74 having been taken care of in January, 69 in February and 77 this month.

Dr. Higgins said he noted an appreciable increase in these diseases in this part of the state since the great windstorm which struck Athens County in par.

KIRBY CASE WILL BE GIVEN JURY BY WEDNESDAY NOON; DEFENSE HAPPY

Cleveland, March 31.—The fate of Josiah Kirby, former president of the $30,000,000 Cleveland Discount Company, who is being tried on a charge of issuing a false financial statement, will rest with the jury of six men and six women by Wednesday noon.

Meanwhile his attorneys are putting the finishing touches to their pleas in his behalf.

The defense counsel rests assured that the evidence presented by the state will be enough to prove Kirby's innocence. So confident was the defense yesterday that it rested its case without presenting a word of argument for the touted financial genius.

Judge Dan Cull will charge the jury Wednesday, it is certain, and is now preparing the charge.

The trial of Kirby draws to a close without any sensational developments having been brought out. Except for the action of the prosecution in requesting that Raymond L. Poland, who was indicted with Kirby be freed so that he might testify with immunity, there has not been more than an ordinary ripple in the proceedings. This surprise stroke was met with the defense's resting of the case yesterday.

SPECTATORS WATCH WORK PROGRESSING ON NEW CIVIC PARK

The work of grading Shawanoese Park, Xenia's new civic playground, is progressing rapidly annd the plans embracing the removal of unsightly and unnecessary brush carried out. The plowing and leveling of the higher parts of the land and sowing the land in sod producing grasses will be done this week.

The plans also include the tiling and ditching of the entire tract preparatory to the drainage of the swamp, so that it can dry out for the purpose of removing the top earth to determine the depth of the lagoon.

Groups of spectators gathered from time to time during the day and view with interest the progress of the work and the promise of the Xenia park. One man came up to the group Monday morning and said "I am going to work here today." The foreman in charge countered, "Who hired you and what do you want an hour?" The man answered "I want to work but do not want any money for it." He worked all day faithfully and made a good hand.

The Recreation Association received many offers during the campaign for such service and is not adverse to any help received, if along the lines prescribed at the time of the donation of the services.

The books of the association are being kept open for further gifts and anyone desiring to enlarge their subscription or to bring in one which was missed it will be appreciated.

The Recreation Association plans to hold an election of officers in the near future. The work will be completed as far as the money will allow along the most economical lines. Contracts will be let on bids for the portions of the work which can be figured.

COUNTER CHARGES FOLLOW ON HEELS OF XENIAN'S ARREST

Mrs. T. A. Wiltrie, of Vernon Twp., Clinton County, who caused the arrest of Morris Painter, Xenia, on a charge of petit larceny, recently was in turn charged by Painter with furnishing intoxicating liquor and was arrested in Clinton County last Wednesday. She pleaded not guilty to the charge and her trial is fixed for April 15, at 9 a. m., in Mayor Pennington's court, Wilmington.

Painter, and Joseph T. Russell, Cincinnati and R. D. Painter, Wilmington, were bound over to the grand jury on charges of petit larceny by Squire W. I. Stewart, recently. The three were arrested on charges sworn out by Mrs. Wiltrie.

Mrs. Wiltrie told Wilmington police that Morris and R. D. Painter and Russell, representing themselves as agents of the Goldberg Realty Company of Cincinnati, conferred with her and her husband in regard to exchange of their farm in Vernon Township for two pieces of real estate in Cincinnati.

It is alleged that, after a visit to Cincinnati to inspect what was designated as the two tracts of land, a contract in exchange was drawn up. Mrs. Wiltrie alleges that Morris Painter claimed as his commission in the deal, $250, in payment of which she and her husband gave a note, she said. After giving the note, according to the story, the Wiltries decided not to complete the deal and wished their money back. They say that Painter refused to return the money, whereupon Mrs. Wiltrie accused the men in court of having "stolen, taken and carried away, one dozen chickens of the value of $12; and three hams of the value of $9," March 18. Mrs. Wiltrie alleges that the three men claimed these things as part payment of the commission due them.

In retaliation, Painter brought the charge of furnishing liquor, against Mrs. Wiltrie. He claims that she permitted them to drink of cherry juice which she had in her home, left from the canning season. The juice when tested in Wilmington College laboratories, proved to have an alcoholic content of 1.4 per cent.

LESS LEGISLATION MORE CO-OPERATION NEED OF RAILROADS

"The most important problems in the minds of the public today are: first, can railroads continue to provide adequate service for the people of this county as in the past two years; second, can railroads continue to add to the efficiency and economy with which their properties are now being operated," Gayle W. Arnold, industrial agent, Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, told members of the Rotary Club at the luncheon at the Elk's Club Tuesday.

"You may wish to know why I ask these questions, and I say that it is because each individual is interested in the success of our second greatest industry—our transportation."

"The railroad industry is the second largest in our country—agriculture being first—with about 2,000,000 employees in normal times and property valued at more than twenty billion dollars. Therefore the importance of the railroad problem to every citizen in the United States is apparent.

"The individual responsibility of each of us is strikingly brought out by the fact that more than half of our population, according to the latest census, live in cities of 10,000 or more inhabitants. The remainder, more than fifty millions, live in smaller towns and villages, while about one-third live on farms. Railroads and their problems affect every one of them.

"Railroads of the United States have 989,949 stockholders, and the Baltimore and Ohio system alone has approximately 36,000 stockholders while 30,000,000 insurance policy holders, and 11,000,000 savings bank depositors have direct financial interest in railroads.

"There are so many angles to the so-called "railroad problem" that it would be impossible in limited time to attempt to cover them but I put especial emphasis on the one phase the broad question of public policy toward our railroads.

The railroads must have the far-sighted sympathy and assistance of the public. This does not mean that freight rates are too low but I do say that part of the remedy is; less legislation directed toward the railroads and more co-operation, as to a partner in your everyday business of life or giving the management of the railroads the opportunity to handle their business as you handle yours.

"As a whole, the railroads of the United States are today with all of their faults, the most efficient on of any in the world; they render the best service at the lowest cost; they pay the highest wages, and support their employees in the highest standard of living of any railroads in the world.

They can continue to do their best work only by a public policy in harmony with the institutions which have given this nation a place at the head of the nations of the world.

"To sum it up, what is needed by all business today, is less legislation, and more co-operation.

"We do not in this democracy of ours, want paternatistic intervention of government politically controlled mines, agriculture, forestry, manufacturing and transportamanagement. All men, no matter what their calling, know best how to perform their own job."

MARCH SUN MARMS WOODLANDS

SOFT maple buds and honey bees are awakened simultaneously by the March sunshine. The blossoms hang out advertisements of color and nectar and the bees, hungry after their winter sleep, are eager customers. Song sparrows are now traveling leisurely across country back to Canada. They are stopping for a time along the brush-bordered streams. It is a pleasure to hear them sing. Robins and bluebirds are appearing plentifully and while they are still more or less in flocks they will soon separate in pairs and set up housekeeping—the robins in mud-lined bungalows and the bluebirds in the little frame cottages provided by Boy Scouts and others or in tree cavities.

The willow has taken on its golden hue of early spring, the pussy willows have shed the scales covering their catkins and the fuzzy white buds are glistening in the sun. The March cold snap with its attendant flurry of snow is a trying time for early bird migrants. At such times they huddle in evergreen trees or crawl back of the overhanging turf of stream banks. Out in the woods the pointed leaves of dogtooth violets push through the mold and buds of spring beauty show touches of color. Owl's eggs have already hatched and the furry youngsters cuddle together in the nest waiting for food to keep them warm and make them grow. On bright days the woodchuck may be seen scurrying across some sun-warmed spot on a foraging tour from his burrow. Crappie are emerging from the deep water of their winter hiding and are moving about in schools, hungry for the fisherman's bait. Crocus have pushed their buds above the sod to tell us spring is here. Squirrels mate and breed early and their homes are already established. Courtship has begun among the birds; chickadees sing their "Sweet-day" song, titmice call 'Peter, Peter, Peter," cardinals mount to a tree top and call 'Theodore, Theodore, what cheer, what cheer;" while flickers bob to each other and drum on a dead tree.

March and April are the months in which to observe the swelling buds and see them shed their fuzzy wrappers. Some of the wrapper scales are beautifully colored as are the buds of the hickory and the buckeye. What a thrilling sight it would be, to the lover ofo the out of doors, if the spring awakening of buds and bulks and seeds could be magnified before our vision so that we might see them push and twist and strain in their effort to burst forth into life and beauty.

"BILL BRYAN," SALESMAN

AND now we find that none other than William Jennings Bryan, leading citizen of Miami, Florida, has turned from politics and "Evolution" to the possibly more lucrative business of real estate sales promotion. Naturally "The Commoner" is greatly interested in the future of Florida and especially of Miami but when, according to Eddie Hay of the Coral Gables Miami Riviera company, he is paid "a salary which might well make the President of the United States envious" his interest is two fold.

Word comes to us that the silver tongued orator lectures every noon, Sundays excepted, in the Venetian casino at Coral Gables to the visitors from every state in the nation and almost every nation in the world on the subject of the future of Florida real estate values. A special platform has been built for Bryan over the water of the Venetian pool, wherein wealth and beauty chatter and plash. Their levity is stilled, however, when Bryan is introduced; some retiring to dressing rooms or to lounge in the casino while others listen in bathing attire to the words of wisdom which drop from the lips of "The Commoner." The trend of his remarks is illustrated by a talk he made recently when he predicted that "Miami is to become the greatest sea port of the southern Atlantic coast."

PICKING UP AFTER HIM

"When a man gets through with a room," says she,
"It is always a horrible place to see!
The clothes discarded he flings about,
The dresser drawers are all pulled out.
His underwear
Is tossed on a chair
And his socks are here
And his collars there.
And his wife must follow his trail to see
That things are left as they ought to be."

Man is careless at best, I know,
In his hurry his way is to let things go.
And there never seems to come into his mind
The countless tasks which he leaves behind
For his wife to do
When at last he's through
The room to tidy
And dress anew.
But woman has followed, since life began,
Picking things up for a careless man.

And so long as it's shoes and ties and things
A woman can smile at the care it brings;
But this life itself is a dressing room,
Which man must brighten or fill with gloom,
And all joy depends
When the sun descends
On the things he leaves,
And the odds and ends.
If he shirks his duty to serve a whim,
The wife must pick it up after him.

If his trail be strewn with the waste of shame
The wife must fight for a worthy name.
If he leaves this life as he leaves his room,
The burden of toil must his wife assume.
As the long years run
In the sweltering sun
She must do the things
Which he should have done.
She must bend her back till her strength grows dim
Ceaselessly picking up after him.

A suggestion by the Peoples Electric Light and Power Company of extending the street lighting contract which has four more years to run, was turned down by the city council last night.

Vice President Charles W. Fairbanks spent more than an hour in Xenia yesterday before going to Springfield and was given an informal reception by the crowd that milled about him.

About eight or ten Xenia fellows who think they are politicians, are going to Springfield tonight to see the political play, "The County Chairman."

Mrs. M, McK.: "Please tell me what to do for scratches on a mahogany bureau. Also tell me how to remove stains from a brass bed."

Answer: You did not mention the color of your mahogany. For Brown Mahogany: Apply a little permanganate of potassium solution made as follows: Dissolve one teaspoonful of the permanganate crystals in one pint of warm water. Use a fine camel's hair brush to put this brown stain on the cracks. Then rub with any good furniture polish. For Red Mahogany: Dissolve a little Bismark brown aniline powder in alcohol and apply this to the cracks with a fine brush, then use a furniture polish. Or, if you prefer, go to an artists' supply store where they sell the little tubes of oil paint which artists buy to paint on canvas, and select the correct shade of brown or red to match your particular piece of mahogany. Paint the scratches with this (if too thick, thin slightly in a little benzine—but do not use the benzine near heat or flame). As to the brass bed, have you tried a good brass polish? Evidently your bed is not coated with lacquer, which keeps it from becoming stained and tarnished. When you have polished it brightly, apply a thin coat of lacquer, which can be bought already mixed at any first class paint store. If, however, the brass finish has worn off from too-frequent polishings, then the only thing that can be done is to send the bed to a brass foundry to be done over.

Mrs. H. L.: "Is there anything that can be done to restore color to a dark blue crepe de chine dress under the arms, where discoloration has been caused by perspiration? Also please tell me how to clean yellow window shades which have become soiled."

Answer: There is nothing that I know of to restore the color of blue crepe de chine under the conditions you mention. To Clean Holland Shades, lay them one at a time on a table and rub with a cheesecloth bag filled with heated cornmeal, finish by dusting with a soft cloth. Some housewives use powdered bathbrick applied with a slightly-moistened pad of old cloths.

Today's Talks

THE WORLD OF MAKE BELIEVE

I often revolt against the same nicely portioned breakfast that is set before me.

Not that I want to hurt the kind cook, or "cause a scene," or start the day all wrong, but solely and simply because I would like to have some kind of a change that cannot be defined, something that might whisper to my highly tuned imagination and give it a boisterous smile!

I would like to have breakfast that is not quite so realistic as toast and coffee, eggs and bacon, and their tiny accessories.

The fact is that none of us wants so much of hard and fast life. We want something of the stimulation of the "make-believe"—some winged ethereal Whatnot to place before us exactly what we would have, but are unable to ask for.

I am convinced that growing old is not so much a matter of age as of deserting the art of imagination.

People who live a great deal in the world of "Make-Believe," carry Youth along with them as they would a fresh change of clothes.

"How young you look! Why, nobody would ever guess that you are that old," say those who encounter the dreamers and the inhabitants of the world of "Make-Believe."

The doctors of this age are kept busy treating those who have lived too long upon "refined food." The heart and not the white of the wheat is what made our forefathers brave and virile.

Striving for things which we can neither exactly see nor define is what makes for greatness.

Mystery alone fascinates. Not knowing but seeking to know is what makes the inventor, the discoverer and the genius.

COUNTY PASSES ITS QUOTA FOR TRAINING CAMP THIS SUMMER

With three additional candidates accepted within the past week, Greene County's allotted quota of eighteen applicants for the thirty days 'training at Camp Knox, Ky., has been over-subscribed by one applicant and the remaining applicants will be accepted as alternates, it was announced Tuesday from headquarters at Columbus.

All alternates will be ordered to camp this year, in the event that other counties do not come up to their allotted quota before June 1. Alternates this year who are not permitted to attend camp will be given the preference next year.

The following Greene County candidates who have passed the physical examination and whose general character has been certified, attained the complete enrollment last week: John P. McDonald, Xenia; John A. North, Xenia and Max L. Jenks, Jamestown. The last two attended the training camp last year.

CLINE RELEASED ON PAROLE TO XENIAN

Ralph Cline, 18, Davey, W. Va., who has been held in the County Jail since being sentenced several weeks ago, has been released under an order suspending sentences imposed in Common Pleas Court.

The release from custody was obtained through the aid of Dr. B. L. Lackey, Home Avenue, who became interested in the youth while visiting him at the Jail. Under terms of the parole Dr. Lackey, and others who have interested themselves in the boy's behalf, will look after his conduct and report periodically to the court.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY

Farris Wallace, of Springfield, pleaded not guilty to a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a sixteen-year-old girl, when arraigned in Juvenile Court Tuesday morning. His trial was set for Friday, April 3, in Juvenile Court. He is being held in County jail.

Wallace was arrested Friday by Springfield authorities and returned to Xenia Saturday by Deputy Sheriff John Baughn.

MERGER OF C. AND O. HAS BEEN APPROVED

Richmond, Va., March 31—The merger of the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad into the big Nickle Plate system, being promoted by the Van Sweringen brothers at Cleveland, apparently has been approved, it was announced here today after an all night count of the ballots cast yesterday.

Formal announcement of a result is being held up because of uncertainty as to whether a two-thirds of the total vote cast or two-thirds of the total outstanding shares are necessary to approve the merger.

The total shares outstanding number 850,816.

Of this total there were 659,460 shares voted in the meeting here, as follows:

For the merger 506,542.
Against the merger 152,918.

These figures were announced this morning by Berkeley Williams, Richmond, banker, who is secretary of the minority stockholders group which is opposing the merger. The figures were announced after tellers had worked all night completing the count and before the regular meeting of the stockholders called to hear the results of the voting.

NEW SIGNAL SYSTEM EFFECTIVE MONDAY

The changed system of ringing the fire gong designating that a fire has been extinguished and the hours of 6 a.m., 12 m., and 6 p.m., went into effect Monday.

The bell is now tapped but once to designate the hours of the day, instead of three times as was formerly the case, and three taps of the bell are given to signal that a blaze has been placed under submission, according to the new system originated by Fire Chief T. B. Claire. But one tap was formerly used.

The useless drain on the batteries of the alarm system has necessitated the change, according to Chief Claire.

MONEY AT WORK

Brief but Important Lessons in Finance, Markets, Stocks, Bonds and Investments

In order to make their curencies stop playing hop, skip and jump, two courses are open to the nations of the world that have these unstable currencies.

* * *

Most currency authorities, including Edwin Walter Kemmerer of Princeton University, are agreed that the two methods by which the depreciated and fluctuating currencies of the world may be stabilized are by deflation and revaluation.

For countries like Great Britain, which has approximately a 7 per cent falling off from its gold standard, deflation is a workable plan, though this will cause "tight" money conditions and "hard times."

For countries like France, which have had their currencies slide greatly below their former standard, revaluation is the only workable plan for stabilization. For example, France might make the gold franc represent 5 cents (its present actual worth, instead of 19.3 cents. Germany revaluated its currency under the workings of the Dawes plan and now has the lowest price level of any of the major countries of the world.

Both deflation and revaluation would eb painful, but so are many necessary surgical operations.

A TISSUE BUILDER

One of the important laws of health is to safeguard the quality of the blood, for good, red blood builds up the tissues. The food we eat and the food our parents ate, is a factor, also the air we breathe day and night, and the kind of water we drink, absolute purity is a requisite, and we owe it to ourselves and to those who come after us to keep the blood pure. A graduate of Philadelphia and Cincinnati Medical Schools was Dr. R. V. Pierce, who early practiced in Pennsylvania, and became famous. He was a student of life problems, and had great faith in Nature's healing through the herbs and roots, such as were used by the Indians, and, after careful analyses of their different qualities, compounded the Golden Medical Discovery, which met with such phenomenal success that a wider field was necessary, and he removed to Buffalo, N. Y., where he became a leading citizen and Representative in Congress, built up a splendid business, and founded the famous Invalids Hotel. Dr. Pierce's name is alone a guarantee of the purity of the Golden Medical Discovery, which has helped thousands for over fifty years, and many unsolicited testimonials bear witness to its value as a tonic.

Sold by all druggists, in liquid or tablet form, or send 10 cents for trial sample to Dr. Pierce's Invalids Hotel, 665 Main Street, Buffalo, N. Y., and write for free medical advice.

WELL ONE DAY IN BED THREE

That Was the Life of Mrs. Hollister Until she Began Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Wyandotte, Michigan. — "After my baby was born I did not do my own work for six months and could hardly take care of my own baby. I always had a pain in my right side and it was so bad I was getting round shoulders I would feel well one day and then feel so bad for three or four days that I would be in bed. One Sunday my mother came to see how I was, and she said a friend told her to tell me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. So the next day I got a bottle and before it was half taken I got relief. After I was well again I went to the doctor and he asked me how I was getting along. I told him I was taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and he said it did not hurt any one to take it. I am always recommending the Vegetable Compound to others and I always have a bottle of it on hand."—Mrs. HENRY HOLLISTER, R. F. D. No. 1, Box 7, Wyandotte, Mich.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a dependable medicine for all women. For sale by druggists everywhere.

Prugh Sells The Dirt

Having reopened my office at the old stand with S. B. LeSourd & Co., No. 4-6 North Detroit Street, I will devote practically all of my time to Xenia and Greene County Real Estate.

In the last twenty four years I have handled more than seven million dollars worth of property and I believe all my clients were satisfied. You know I can sell them. List your property with me.

I have several nice homes for sale in Xenia. The LEWIS ALLISON HOME at the corner of Market and King Streets; eight rooms, brick, strictly modern. Mr. Allison has left the city and wants to sell. Locations like this are scarce. I have some good bargains on NORTH KING and NORTH GALLOWAY, very desirable homes on Main Street, Dayton Avenue, Third Street, Orient Hill, and a beautiful lot 67 1-2 feet on East Church Street. I have three splendid farms on the bargain counter. You will never buy land as cheap as you can now. It is the safest and best investment offered.

NEVER AGAIN

YOUR forefather's bathtub was the creek. He mirrored his face in a basin of water and made his fire with a flint. His Ford was a horse's shanks, his electric light a wick in tallow, his telephone a shrill shouting through his hands. He hewed for his furniture, spun for his clothes, tilled, sewed, reaped, ground, mixed, baked for his bread. When he died, not a newspaper printed the news, and his possessions were too few for a will.

You'll never have to go back to his old discomforts. Not while printed pages are available. News and advertising have carried far the story of new inventions. Every day more are added, more things For use, for comfort, for enjoyment.

BRIGHT COLORS AND LARGE DESIGNS ARE GOOD THIS SEASON

Dress materials this Spring are vivid and varied and the brighter the color and the larger the design, if it is on the washable silks and other thin materials, all the better.

For instance, the long retired polka-dot has been revived. This design can be used in many charming models both alone and combined with black and colors.

The brightness and attraction of the materials being shown adapt themselves admirably to simplicity and when made with the new Godet pleats along long, slim lines the effect is smart.

Black and white studies are brought in the "pen and ink" designs on printed crepe. One clever model in this design was on the tunic order, finely plaited down the front, long tight sleeves over a black slip.

The ensemble with matching coat lining has increased vogue and the new bright materials are used extensively for this purpose. One style book showed a model in black kasha with a lining of crepe in black, white and red crepe.

For more formal wear, for later in the season, are the printed chiffons Large and luscious fruits, or brilliant flowers, either all over or arranged so that the greater density of design and colors falls at the edge of the fabric to form a border, are seen.

Clear colors in which the reds predominate are used a great deal, and the greens and cooler colors are sometimes seen. Chiffons of this type are made into the simplest of afternoon frocks and are often plaited.

BOBBED HAIR HERE TO STAY DECLARES FRENCH BOB-ARTIST

"Short hair? Yes, of course, it will continue. A woman with long hair is as demodee as a woman with a long skirt. It is more essential than ever to the silhouette," so says Antoine, famous French barber.

"But, when a thing is as popular as this, it 'falls into the common' as we say," he continued. "How to save it from this fate? Individualism.'

"A coiffure for every head. A special study of the line and curve. The artist-barber will always do this, but he must have the co-operation of the woman herself. She best knows herself, her own needs."

Antoine practices what he preaches when he comes to trimming hair in his establishment. Sometimes the woman's hair is cut exactly like a man's — straight, and short, the ears bravely showing. Earrings look almost incongruous with this coiffure.

Fringes are often seen, sometimes cut straight across the forehead, more often startling frome one side and rather thin and straggly. Partings down the center or on one side are frequent. When there is a chignon, it is tiny and tightly fitted to the back of the neck.

Antoine thinks that the reproach of plainness with the shock-headed coiffure with the richer type of evening dress should be met by the revival of the head dress for evening wear. The bob and the shingle are so perfect with the boyish sports clothes that it would be a shame to change them, he thinks, and what is easier than adding an appropriate head decoration, which shall again be carefully chosen to suit the costume.

Antoine visits his clients in their homes and they receive him at the most impossible hours, with his irons, shears and bag of latest gossip thankful to get him at all. He visits London three days a week where he trims eighty favored heads. No one is said to give quite such a lovely line to the hair as he.

CAST SELECTED FOR JUNIOR CLASS PLAY TO BE STAGED SOON

Pupils of the junior class of Central High School were cast Monday evening for parts in "Pollyanna," the dramatization by Katherine Cushing of Eleanor Porter's novel, which will be presented as the annual class play at the school auditorium Thursdays and Friday, April 16 and 17.

Characters have been assigned as follows:

Mrs. Carmody—Miss Jane Hayward.
Mrs. Gregg—Miss Elizabeth Stout.
Miss Carroll—Miss Elizabeth Piper.
Nancy the Maid—Miss Josephine John.
Polly Harrington — Miss Helen Reutinger.
Polly Whittier—Miss Barbara Little.
Jimmy Bean, Jr.—William Wead.
John Pendleton, Esq.—George Perrill.
Bleeker, servant—Robert Downing.
Dr. Chilton—Roger Nash.
Nurse—Miss Mary Wilson.
Chauffeur—Robert Currie.
Jimmy Bean Sr.—Bob Finlay.

Miss Jean Elwell, former head of the English department of the school, will direct the cast.

BRIGHT COLORS TO FEATURE MEN'S WEAR

Brighter colors in articles of men's wear especially in the cravat line are promised for the coming summer. Stripes also will be popular not only in neckwear but for shirts, pajamas, handkerchiefs, sweaters and socks.

In neckwear there are to be various shades of red and blue and "canary" suggesting color of a toasted biscuit. Another new shade in mens' ties is a deep blue called 'policeman's blue" because it is so serviceable. Bright stripes with a dark backround will be also worn a lot, say men's furnishers.

Men's handkerchiefs are being made smaller in order to fit with comfort in the top breast pocket of street suits. The pocket is narrower this year than heretofore.

SELECTION OF FABRICS SIMPLE MATTER FOR SPRING STYLE EXPERT HAS DECLARED

"The selection of fabrics for frocks this season is simplicity itself. Certain fabrics are appropriate for certain types of costumes, others are not. That is all. Smart costumes have become standardized, universal, so have fabrics," says Lucile Buchanan in Harper's Bazaar.

"For sports wear—one might really say for general daytime wear, because the sports costume and its modifications are the very basis of the present mode — the following fabrics are smart: kasha cloth, used by itself is good, but kasha cloth combined with matching crepe is better. Many of the newest sports ensembles of crepe and kasha cloth and of kasha cloth are combined with unusually fine knitted wool of the same color. The latter is—of course — essentially for sports.

"Surah silk is being used, both plain and printed. It is used for ensembles for frocks and matching coat linings. For simple frocks it is printed with polka-dots, which are newly revived and very smart, and with all-over floral designs or plaids and stripes in vivid color.

"In these printed silks, the Spanish types of colors are good. Cream, sand, printed with vermillion and sepia. Beige, rose and "blonde" backgrounds rather than white. Pervenche blue, magenta reds and wine reds. Pervenche blue combined with darker blues.

"Black and white crepes, figured, checked, striped and polka-dotted are good. They combine extremely well with black fabrics for ensembles.

"Ribbed fabrics are smart again, but "with a difference." A new material "velvaflor" that has a velvety quality and is at the same time lustrous and far more supple than last year's ribbed fabrics, is being shown.

"Bordered crepes and chiffons are extremely smart for afternoon. Some are made with double borders, so that interesting costumes may be draped with them.

"Enormous floral designs are good for afternoon, both in chiffon and crepe. Homespun fabrics, made in France and British homespun fabrics are used for complete sports ensembles and for separate little frocks and top-coats."

OFFICER PLEASED WITH GUARD UNIT

Complimenting members on their neat appearance, Captain Charles Wilson, United States Army, expressed himself well pleased with the manner in which Company L, 147th Infantry, Ohio National Guard conducted itself at the inspection Monday night at the Armory, East Main Street.

Captain Wilson conducted the inspection in the absence of Captain Karch and Lieutenants Miller and Lantz, of Greenvile, who sent word they were unable to appear.

The company was inspected in close order and extended drill, precision in drill movements and neatness in appearance. The inspection was the second held within the last three weeks.

In a short talk to members of the company, Captain Wilson stressed the necessity that every man must do his part in perfecting a well organized military unit.

J. W. PRUGH RESUMES REALTY OFFICE HERE

John W. Prugh, for many years a realty operator in Xenia, has resumed the operation of his real estate business here, and will occupy his former offices with the S. B. LeSourd and Company, 4 to 6 North Detroit Street.

Mr. Prugh gave up his business to become Ohio superintendent of the division of Building and Loan Associations, with offices at Columbus, under former Governor Harry L. Davis, in which capacity he served two years.

His political position necessitated his retirement from active real estate work in Xenia for a period. His resumption in that field follows twenty-four years experience in the business in Xenia.

COURT NEWS

BRINGS SUIT ON NOTE

Suit to collect $2,782, alleged due on a promissory note, has been filed in Common Pleas Court by The Exchange Bank of Cedarville through its attorneys, W. L. Miller and J. A. Finney against Harry and Dorcas Townsley.

Harry Townsley had recently filed suit against the Cedarville bank for $1,895.40 alleging the defendants had misappropriated funds delivered into its hands.

In that suit the plaintiff claimed that he had left with the defendant a note for $1,895.40 for cattle sold to James and Flo Frame payable to himself.

The plaintiff alleged that the note would be taken up February 17 and said that he had entered into an agreement with the bank to apply funds on his indebtedness to the bank.

The bank received the money but refused to carry out the agreement and either the cashier or other employees misappropriated the money for their own use, according to the petition. Marcus Shoup and Harry D. Smith were retained as attorneys for the plaintiff.

EAST HIGH SCHOOL GETS RECOGNITION FROM ASSOCIATION

A notable recognition, acceptance or membership by the North Central Association of College and High Schools, had been accorded East High School, this city.

The following statement was contained in a letter received by C. A. Waltz, superintendent of city schools, Monday:

"I am pleased to advise you that your East High School was accepted for membership by the North Central Association of College and High Schools.

"Very truly yours,
"C. B. Ulery,
High School Supervisor,
"Ohio State Department of Education."

East High School has already been accredited as a first-grade high school by the State Department of Education, but this new recognition is the highest possible standing and means that East High School's principal, Arthur Taylor and his corps of teachers have met the most rigid requirements of this association.

It also means that East High School meets the following standards: hygenic conditions; laboratory and library facilities; units of graduation, tone and spirit; salary; qualifications of principal and teachers; periods per teacher; pupil-teacher ratio; program of studies and adequacy of teaching staff. It means further, according to Superintendent Waltz, that a graduate of East High School will be accepted for entrance in any college or university in any of the North Central Association states without examination.

In order to be retained on this list East High School will have to continue to grow in all the above standards. There will be no standing still tolerated, according to the association rules. All Xenia school officials, including the board of education, will do everything possible to keep East High on the list.

According to the inspector who recently visited East High School it is the only colored school of its kind which has received recognition by the North Central Association.

The North Central Association is composed of recognized high schools and colleges in the following states with inter-state relations with similar schools all over the United States: Arizona, Illinois, Indiana, Lowa, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, New Mexico, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Wisconsin and Wyoming.

"This official recognition is due to the efforts of Principal Taylor and the progressive teachers in his corps as well as the co-operation and interest of the Xenia City Board of Education. From now on East High School of this city will be on equal footing with the big city high schools" Superintendent Waltz said.

BERNARR MACFADDEN

Health Hints by the Father of Physical Culture

It is a curious but necessary provision of Nature that the blood, besides carrying the digested nourishment and the life-giving oxygen to all portions of the body, also removes all of the waste, poisonous products from the system. And from the very nature of our physical organization, the blood is the only agent that can be employed in this dual capacity.

It must be understood, of course, that each of the organs has a circulatory system of its own. Now, impure blood is brought into the kidneys through a channel known as the renal artery. This artery subdivides, and the subdivision is carried on and on, until every portion of the kidneys is supplied with arterial blood. From the branches of the arteries the blood passes into capillaries, which are the minute channels that exist between arteries and veins. But in the kidneys, instead of a single system there is a double system of capillaries. These capillaries exist in numerous plexuses or net-works, and before the blood can pass into the renal vein it must flow through the capillary membranes and thus on through the entire and complicated system of these minute vessels

Now, the blood contains a surplus of water and, in solution, many waste matters, the most important of which is a substance called urea. While passing through the capillaries the blood is filtered; the surplus water and the solids that it holds in solution are absorbed through the thin membranes, and are passed on, while the blood thus purified enters the roots of the venous system that empties into the renal vein. In this manner, the blood that has been ridded of its waste products is returned to the general circulation.

Not all the surplus moisture can be carried off by the kidneys. The skin has its share to do. If the skin be not active in its work of excreting surplus toxic moisture then that much more is forced upon the kidneys, and the latter organs, when overworked, become weakened and diseased.

The skin has three purposes. It protects the delicate tissues of the outer surfaces of the body; it acts as an organ of sense (touch) and it excretes moisture.

BOGUS PROHIBITION MEN ATTACK WOMAN

Dayton, March 30. — Mrs. Martha Brill, who operates a roadhouse on the Valley Pike, about one mile outside the Dayton corporation line, was attacked by bogus prohibition agents early Monday morning and $40 taken from beneath a carpet in her bedroom.

The three men raided the roadhouse and after threatening to torture Mrs. Brill, rendered her partly unconscious by a blow on the jaw, stole the money and escaped.

Sheriff Howard E. Webster, Montgomery County, ordered a thorough search of the county for the trio.

Mrs. Brill's roadhouse was raided several weeks ago by county and state officers.

BLIND WRITER OF HYMNS IS EXTOLLED AT CHURCH SUNDAY

Services at the First Baptist Church Sunday evening were in memory of Fanny Crosby, blind writer of eight thousand gospel songs and hymns who died in 1915 at the age of 95 years. A pageant depicting her life was presented by the Young People of the church in which her blindness and her power to overcome obstacles were the main points.

Fanny Crosby was born in Southeast, N. Y. in 1820 and at the age of six weeks was afflicted with blindness. During her lifetime she was credited with eight thousand gospel songs and hymns, many of them being well known through the nation. "Blessed Assurance," "Hold Thou My Hand," "Pass Me Not, O Gentle Saviour", "Saved By Grace" "Jesus Is Tenderly Calling," and "God Be With You Till We Meet Again" being among those best known.

One of the important features of her life was her ability to keep in mind many different poems before dictating, and at one time was known to have kept forty poems in mind before they were dictated and set to music.

The pastor, the Rev. R. E. Brown, in his address stressed the point of the life of Fanny Crosby as an example to the world of the power to overcome obstacles. Her blindness was not a handicap to her life and though her eyes could not see, her ears heard much" and she made the most of her life.

A good attendance marked the evening service.

WILL BURY GROCER KILLED BY BANDIT AT CEDARVILLE

Funeral services for Emmons Hartsook, 60, 1425 Franklin Avenue, Columbus, who died Monday from injuries received when he was attacked by bandits in his grocery, Saturday, will be held Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock at the chapel of the Denton and Donaldson Company. Interment will be made at Cedarville, it was announced by James Milburn, of Cedarville, a half-brother, who is Mr. Hartsook's only living near relative.

Columbus authorities arrested Girard Morgan, Columbus, Saturday night for investigation in connection with the crime. The prisoner has thus far refused to give police any valuable clue which might lead to a solution of the mystery.

Police are holding a bloodstained hatchet found in the Hartsock grocery as evidence in the case believing the fatal blows were struck with this instrument. Fingerprints discovered on the base of the handle proved worthless as a clue being smeared with blood and blurred.

ANTIOCH OPPOSES WILMINGTON NINE

Division "B" baseball team of Antioch College, will open its spring diamond season Wednesday at Yellow Springs opposing the strong Wilmington nine in the afternoon at 2:45 o'clock.

The Antiochians have eight letter men back in the fold but the squad is somewhat handicaped by the absence of a good hurler. Two outfielders have been pressed into temporary service to fill the vacancy and it is probable that both will be given a chance in Wednesday's game.

Antioch has a veteran outfield with six men who hit above .300 last year back in line and is favored to win the first clash of the season from Coach "Shifty" Bolen's nine.

JUNIORS BEAT SOPHS IN CLASS CONTEST

Juniors defeated sophomores 11 to 0 at Cox Memorial Athletic Field Monday afternoon in an inter-class baseball game.

Seniors defeated the freshmen 11 to 2 last week and then defeated the sophomores 18 to 3. The juniors will play the freshmen Wednesday night and then will meet the seniors Friday evening.

The lineups for Monday's game contain two descrepancies, the sophomores being without the services of a short stop while the juniors were shy a center fielder. They are: Sophomores—Haverstick, rf; Burr, cf; Cramer, lf; Graham, p; Tull, c; Downey, 1b; Dudley, 2b; Dentley, 3b; Juniors—Parrott, c; Scurry, p; Finlay, ss; Nash, 1b; Stearns, 2b; Sutton, 3b; Henrie, rf; Collins, lf.

Bowling

The Winchesters continued to perform in unusual bowling style Monday night by copping one game in three from the leading Arcade "5" and losing the middle game by but five pins. The unexpected defeat throws the league leaders into easy striking distance of the Quoit Club.

Creamer and Pesavento tied for high average honors while Pesavento rolled the only 200 score of the match. Box score:

LOCAL TRAINERS ARE MENTIONED BY SCRIBE

E. L. Churchill, racing scribe, has the following to say about Greene County trainers and harness racing horses:

"Joe Hagler, the Xenia trainer, is busy this spring with a stable full of trotters and pacers, included in the number, being his good pacer, Silver Pointer, 2:08 1-4 and Ross Harvester 2:14 1-4, a trotter that he raced with success in 1924.

"It is said that Ed Fogwell, the Osborn trainer and owner of the pacers, Al Bingen, 2:07 1-4; and Al Jennings, 2:14 1-4, that he wintered at Orlando, Fla., was recently offered $10,000 for the pair."

CARLYLE BROTHERS BILLED TO CONNECT WITH BIG TIME BALL

Tampa, Fla., March 31—Major league baseball has known many brother-acts notably the O'Neills the Johnstons, Doc and Jimmy; the Meusels, the Coveleskies, the Barnes, ect., and because those mentioned were the cream of the field and made good, it is assumed by some that one star in the famliy will and does create another. Which is several fathoms under the truth.

The season of 1925, however, will have as one of its feature offerings the brothers Carlyle, of Detroit and Washington, and their chance of making good in the majors at one and the same time is said to be more than a bare possibility. Both are outfielders. Both are hitters of rather extraordinary ability—or were in the minors.

Roy, the elder, is with Washington at the moment. He hit .368 with Memphis last year and led the Southern League. H. C., who is little more than eighteen, is believed to be so highly esteemed by Ty Cobb that the Georgian has selected him as his ultimate successor-in-prospect. The younger Carlyle hit .346 with Charlotte last season, his first in professional baseball. He really seems to be an unusual prospect.

H. C. has one vital asset which Roy lacks—speed. He can step around the outfield with the best of them or streak down to first base well in front of the average infield tap. Roy has no such ability. He merely takes it out in hitting, but does it so often and lustily that the Senators are not disposed to let him get far from their sight. They have more outfielders than they need this year, but if Roy continues to hit like he did with Memphis, someone else, perforce, will have to go.

Since Washington and Detroit have been nominated to a place among the leading pennant contenders, it is possible that some fine afternoon may see both Carlyles get their chance in the outfield and the age-old equation of brother versus brother will have another revival.

MITCHELL ASSIGNED TO SAN ANTONIO AREA

Washington, March 31—Brigadier General William Mitchell, at the termination of his term as assistant chief of air service on April 27, will be transferred to San Antonio, Texas, as air service officer in the Eighth Corps area, the war department announced today.

Announcement of Mitchell's new assignment created great interest in congressional circles because of the predictions freely made during the air service controversy that the flying general would be given a post far away from Washington.

Mitchell's new post at San Antonio is considered the most important air post in the field.

At San Antonio, General Mitchell succeeds Lieutenant Colonel Clarence C. Culver.

"NOT POSSIBLE TO CLASSIFY" BY MACK SAUER

Well, the talk at the Hammer Club headquarters yesterday was of a fish John Schultz is reported to have almost caught. It is said it weighed 56 lbs. and that Schultz had it above water and saw its scales. That's how he knows the weight.

He is reported to be working on an invention for digging worms. It is said to be an attachment to a telephone. From the attachment is a wire which when put into the ground causes the worms to come to the surface. However, if it is going to be as difficult to get an angleworm as it is to get central, McGinnis and I will continue using the spade.

SPEAKING OF FISHING

"A fish hook I find,"
Said William Dish,
"Catches on everything
Except a fish."

The idea of the invention is this. When the phone rings it will tickle the angle worms and they will come to the surface so that they can stop wiggling. What we need is something that will get Central to come in, so that the subscriber will be tickled and will stop wiggling the receiver.

All we care to add is that if a fellow had an angleworm on the hook every time he takes the receiver off the hook and finds some one has the wrong number, the supply would more than equal the demand.

EVERHART HEARD FROM

Now Everhart I
Think would wish
The old river
Would be full of fish.

Still, it perhaps is a waste of time to be discussing the question of fishing. The fishing line, like a lot of others we know of, will be busy most of the time during the summer.

You drop an angleworm into the water and the bobber tips indicating that you have a bite. Then comes the word from the fish that it was a mistake, beg pardon.

DUMB DORA

"Tell me dear,"
Said Tillie Drolls,
"Is Mussolini
A kind of shoals?"

Fishing tackle is advertised on this page today. Applications for membership to the Hammer Club are still coming in. Phone an ad tomorrow.

MORE INTELLIGENT BUYING NEEDED TO STABILIZE BUSINESS

Babson Park, Florida, March 30.—Prices have again turned upward. Various commodity indices and the cost of living figures show that the average is rising. The question as to the effect of this tendency on general business was put today to Roger W. Babson, the statistician and economist.

"The first effect of rising prices is a stimulant to business," says the statistician. "When things start to go up the people who have been waiting buy. Manufacturers also stock up with materials. As the movement continues, however, the same tendency becomes a brake on business. When prices get above the level that most people consider fair value, they stop buying altogether. As a matter of fact the average buyer goes at the thing in haphazard fashion.

Statistics have their uses but also their abuses. The cost of living indices are useful to the statistician; but are often dangerous in the hands of the laymen. Fisher's Index is probably the best price index in existence today being weighted scientifically. Even this, however, must be used with discretion. When the Fisher, the Bradstreet, or any other price index shows an increase it should be remembered that this applies only to the average of all commodities. When we purchase commodities we do not buy the average list, but we buy specific articles. Therefore, altho it is well to watch Fisher's Index, yet the important thing when purchasing is to study the position of the specific commodity or article which one is purchasing.

"Numerous illustrations might be given showing that although the general price Index has risen, all prices have not risen. For instance, one can obtain more actual value for a dollar today when purchasing an automobile than at any previous time in history. Not only are the automobiles lower priced, but the quality, durability, and efficiency are being materially increased. This does not mean that automobiles may not be further reduced in price. They probably will be as time goes on, but even at the same price one will be getting more in actual value in 1925 than in any previous year. This same fact applies to tires, oil, gasoline, batteries, and practically all accessories connected with this growing industry.

"Another illustration of lowering prices is the electric current which we use for lighting, power and other purposes. While the securities of light and power companies have been going up, the price of the commodity itself has been going down. In this respect, the electric power business is just the opposite of the telephone business. The cost of the latter increases per unit as the telephone subscribers increase in number; but the cost of electric power decreases per unit as the amount used increases. Electricity for light and power is being bought for less today than in any time in its history, and even lower prices will be introduced in many communities during 1925. Among the household commodities there is sugar which everyone uses and which is selling for less today, with the exception of late 1921 and early 1922, than it has for nine years.

"Without doubt the American people need to be educated in connection with buying. The advertisement which attracts them into the store has been developed until it can be depended upon for almost certain results. The sales person is carefully and thoroughly trained. The selling of goods has become a fine science but very little has been done to help the public to buy intelligently. As a result of this people buy everything when they are flush, and then stop almost entirely and buy as little as possible. This is one cause of our successive periods of prosperity and depression. The average buyer, whether a man or a woman, is a good deal like the brakeman on a railroad train. If some lone passenger suggests that the car is too cool the brakeman turns on all the heat and shuts the ventilators. The car stays that way until someone suggests that the car is getting too warm; then the brakeman turns off all the heat and opens wide the ventilators.

"There is always some commodity or article that is too high and careful buyers restrict their purchases of such a product until it comes down in price. On the other hand, there is always some article that is selling around normal or even below the cost of production. Certain lines of shoes are an illustration of such an article today. When such a condition exists, careful buyers will purchase all they need for some time to come, even tho the Price Index, which is the average for all articles, is higher than ever. Such a sensible policy on the part of the buyers would do much to cut down the dangerous peaks of over expansion and fill in the valleys of depression. Moreover, these erratic conditions must be eliminated if we are to have business really healthy, happy and prosperous."

VILLAGES TO OPPOSE EFFORTS OF JANTHA CO. TO DROP SERVICE

Whether the Jantha Fuel and Gas Company has the authority to abandon its line in the southwestern part of Ohio and Indiana which supplies more than twelve villages and cities with gas, including Fairfield, Osborn and Yellow Springs, or must obtain a permit from the Public Utilities Commission will be decided at a hearing before the state Supreme Court April 15.

The Jantha company contends that it is given the option to abandon the line at expiration of its franchise claiming the line is being operated at a loss. The ten year franchise expired last October.

Attorney J. A. Finney, of Xenia, and P. A. Sailor, of Eaton, have been appointed by the eight villages in the southern section of the state to represent them at the hearing maintaining that the gas company does not have jurisdiction in the case.

The dozen villages are supplied with fuel directly by the Logan Gas Company, a subsidiary concern of the Jantha company which is the distributing agency.

Court proceedings were instituted indirectly against the Jantha people but naming the Logan company defendant by various villages affected by the proposal and restraining orders were allowed in Common Pleas Court enjoining the company temporarily from discontinuing the gas supply.

Injunction suits were filed in the local Common Pleas Court by Attorney Morris Rice, representing Osborn and J. A. Finney for Fairfield and Yellow Springs and similar restraining orders were allowed.

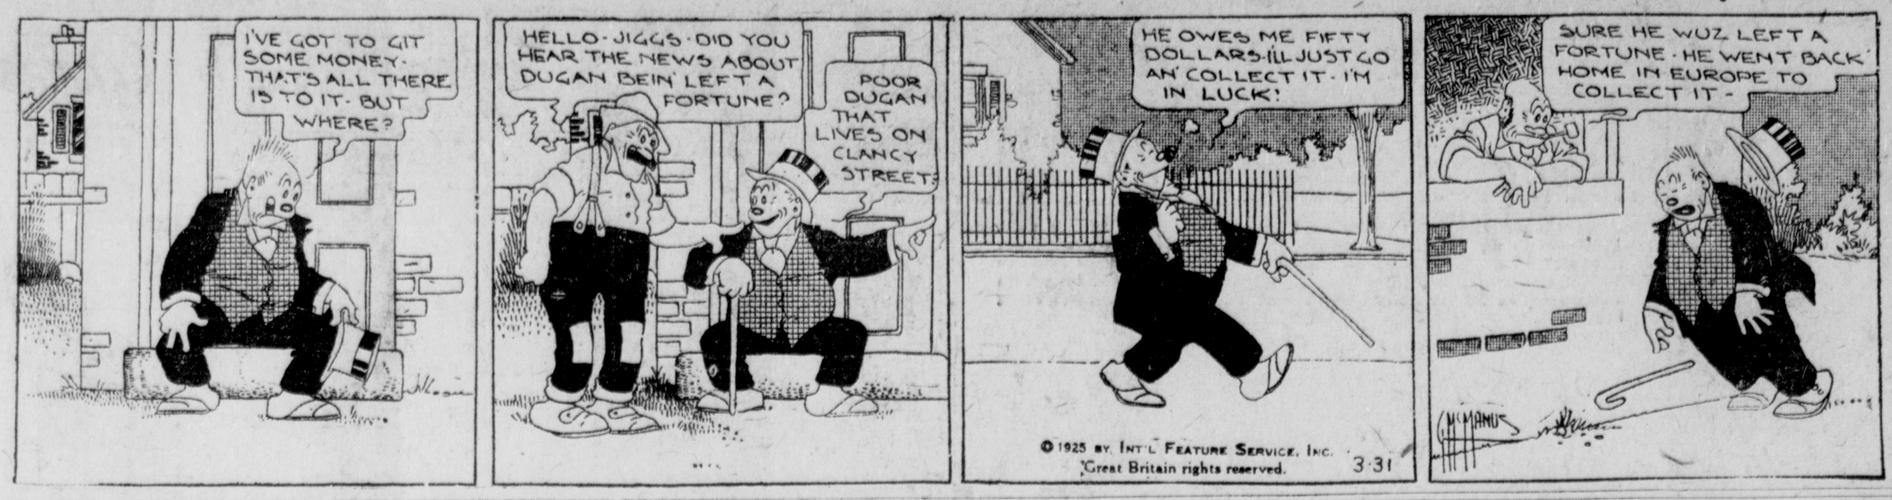
BRNGING UP FATHER — By GEORGE McMANUS



Michael's Marriage

By MICHAEL

CHAPTER III.

On the Monday morning that Michael returned to the desk of the secretary and assistant treasurer, in the office of the Eclipse Manufacturer Company, makers of electrical supplies, he found a note from Arthur Manning, the president: "Please come in and see me when you have time." Michael went in as soon as he knew Manning would be there, wondering what the president had on his mind.

Manning arose as Michael entered, to grip him tightly by the arm and tap him on the shoulder in a fatherly way.

"Words cannot express Mrs. Manning's and my own feelings" he said. Michael looked at the floor, and wished that people wouldn't try to condole. He had found comforting words discomforting.

They sat down opposite each other. "There are two things I wish to take up with you." Manning began. "First, I want to say that if you can, turn over your office to Mr. Inglesby for a while, and go out to our Chicago office. I suggest this merely because you may desire a change of scenery at this time."

"The idea appealed to Michael. "Not right now, Arthur, but a little later, perhaps."

"Any time you say. I'd like to give Richards a little scare by sending a home office man up there for a while. He needs waking up."

Michael didn't like the idea of playing spy, but he did not comment.

"The other matter I wish to take up with you concerns your mother's—and now your interest in the company. It would be advantageous to us if you were able to vote it in the annual meeting in August. Old Bagby and his trust company are too conservative. Of course a trustee ought to be conservative. But I think you understand far better than Bagby the best interest of this company."

"Us— to whom did Manning refer? That was the question that turned over in Michael's mind. Did he mean himself and Jacobs, who was anxious, Michael knew, to get control, or the company?

"I have been thinking about it." Michael responded. "Of course, I can do nothing until the estate is settled. As her will makes me the sole heir, there won't be any hitches, but it'll take time to put is through the courts. That will be probated tomorrow."

When their talk was over, Michael went out with a feeling that Manning had something up his sleeve. He had never cared for Manning particularly. Michael didn't like the bustling, back-slapping booster which was Manning's type. Yet, he had to admit, Manning had made the Eclipse Manufacturing Company a big success. It had grown from the puny firm founded by Michael's father and two associates, to one of the two largest industries in the city and was rapidly spreading out over the country and into foreign lands. The Menlow interest in the company, once a third, was now approximately an eighth, with no one person in control.

"I'm going to have to watch Manning and Jacobs," Michael decided. "I wonder if there's something back of his suggestion that I go to Chicago?" Despite this doubt, he thought more and more of the idea of going there for a while. He remembered it as a struggling giant more beautiful, and more American, than New York. Besides, he would get to see Elaine again.

Elaine—he had not thought of her for a long time. It was a year now since he had seen her. He wondered if she had fallen in love, or even married. He saw her now as he remembered her best, a classical figure in a bathing suit, at the house party given by the Claypools at Star lake; her coal-black hair streaming over her shoulders, and her laugh as thrilling and infectious as tobogganing.

He remembered now that he had a snapshot of her somewhere in his desk, and set about to find it, disregarding the collection of mail awaiting his attention. The snapshot came to sight five minutes later, with a letter Alonzo Capper had sent him, enclosing it. It showed Elaine dressed for tennis, her hair bandaged back, that same infectious smile on display. The dress she wore indicated her superb build.

And she was intelligent, and deeply thoughtful. Michael remembered their arguments over Schopenhauer's essay on women, with her defending it, and he, strangely, assailing it.

Yes, he would like to go to Chicago for a while.

DOWN AND OUT MOTHER COMES BACK; SURPRISES ENTIRE FAMILY

She had worked, loved and was happy in doing for her children, and when she started to decline they were most downhearted and willing to do almost anything to make her last years happy and free from worry and illness. Nothing they did seemed to help—doctors, medicines or rest gave no results.

Finally, when all were about desperate with worry a neighbor induced them to try Kath, as it had worked such wonders with her mother. Ready to grasp at any help they got a supply and the way their mother improved from the start was almost too good to believe. It was only about six weeks before she had completely recovered and was doing her housework, happy and contented, as of old. It sure was a happy and reunited family and they are all recommending Kath to their friends now.

Doctors the world over will tell you that Kath, composed of fresh extracts of Glands, Phosphates, Iron and Herbs, will build up and restore strength and energy against old age and nervous breakdowns. One of our leading physicians says:

"The results I have obtained with Kath gland tonic have been wonderful; especially with elderly men and women where it was necessary to build up strength and revive bodily functions, Kath has given them renewed youth, life, strength and health."

"No one should despair or even think of giving up when they can build themselves up to healthy, vigorous womanhood and manhood and regain their strength, happiness and youthful appearance with only a few weeks' use of Kath."

Note—Kath is a scientific combination of the extracts of fresh, organic glands, vitamins, roots and herbs. Kath will both stimulate and enrich the glands, and organs to supply a greatly increased supply of nerve force and vitality.

Any one who, after a few weeks' use of Kath, does not feel better and look better in every way, can get their money back.
